TRUCK STUCK
IN THE MUD

Unusual Claim Filed at City
Clerk's Office by Boston
Firm

Claimants Allege That Auto Truck Was Mired in Beacon Street

Ask $60 Compensation for Loss of Time of Men and Machine

One of the most unusual claims which has been filed in the office of the city clerk for some time has just been put on record there and will come up for action by the municipal council at an early date. In a nutshell, the petitioners seek compensation of $60 from the city because they were forced to stay in their automobile truck over night as a result of being mired in Beacon street at a point near the reservoir.

The claim is filed in behalf of the Empire Trucking company of Boston in which Morris Rosenfeld and Israel Rosenberg are co-partners. The accident upon which the claim is based occurred March 9 when the truck was passing through Beacon street and at a point near the reservoir sunk into the street. The petitioners claim that the earth was soft in this particular place and gave way to the pressure of the machine. In the truck at the time were one of the members of the firm together with two workmen.

By reason of the accident, the petitioners claim, the three men were compelled to stay all night until the following day by employees of the street department as a result of an appeal to the mayor.

In an early stage of their predicament, the petitioners say, they asked the assistance of Ganley & Matthews, expressmen of this city, and although this firm was unable to help them it sent a bill of $12, according to the claim. In addition to this expense, the two workmen who were on the truck demanded payment for their time spent in the machine during the night and for the following day on which they were unable to work. Their claim totals $35.

Another item of expense, the petitioners state, is $5, the cost of breakfast and supper for three men, and for the loss of the use of the truck during the time it was in the mud, the petitioners charge $25. Their total claim amounts to $60 and they ask the city council to set a date for a hearing on the matter. They are represented by counsel.

500 POLICE OFFICERS CALLED

Detailed to Handle Crowd at Legion's All-American
Meeting at N. Y. Tonight

Hope to Make it Greatest Patriotic Demonstration
Since Close of War

NEW YORK, March 18.—Five hundred policemen have been detailed to handle the 10,000 or more persons expected to turn out tonight for the American Legion's all-American meeting in Madison Square Garden, which has a seating capacity of 13,000.
Applications were received for more than 100,000 tickets, and 30,000 have been issued by the Legion. First arrivals will get the seats and the police will form a cordon around the Garden and will permit only those with tickets to pass. Once the auditorium is filled, all comers will be directed to numerous open-air meetings.
The meeting was arranged as a protest against the recent "horror on the Rhine" meeting, held in the same hall.
Legion officials declare tonight's gallery will express disapproval of all hypnotized propaganda. They hope to make the greatest patriotic demonstration since the close of the war.

Pershing Principal Speaker
General Pershing will be principal speaker. F. W. Galbraith, national commander of the American Legion, will preside. Among those invited to sit at the speaker's table are Major General Robert Leo Bullard, Rear Admiral Harry McLean, Huse, William Howard Taft, George W. Wickersham, James W. Gerard, Henry L. Stimson,
Cornelius Vanderbilt, Alton B. Parker,
Miss Anne Morgan, Carrie Chapman Catt and leaders of various patriotic societies.
Several hundred disabled veterans from nearby hospitals will be among the guests of honor.
The decorations will consist solely of "Old Glory."

HOOCH AND ALCOHOL
More Liquor Cases Heard in Police Court

Two cases of illegal keeping of liquor engaged the attention of Judge Enright in the police court today, and the municipal finances benefited to the extent of $250 when both defendants pleaded guilty. George Feldman, in whose barn, located in Washington street, fifty gallons of pure grain alcohol were seized some time ago by the liquor raiding squad, was assessed $100, and Peter Mostakakis paid $50 when three pint bottles of moonshine were uncovered by the liquor officers in his Middlesex street store, and four more in his room above. After sentence had been passed on Mostakakis, Judge Enright was given further information as to the defendant's alleged bootlegging activities by Officer O'Sullivan. The defendant was called back by the court, and Judge Enright told him that "if I had known all the circumstances, I have sent you to the house of correction." It was testified that Mostakakis has had two men working for him, and that he has also sold liquor to women. John Roberts paid a $10 fine for drunkenness, and Armand J. Nichols was given two weeks to furnish support for his wife and child.

Declared Defaulted Maurice H. Bugdonoff, charged with wrongfully advertising better, was not in court when his name was called and he was declared defaulted. It was stated that Mr. Bugdonoff is in Bermuda on business.
TO DELAY ARGUMENTS
IN STILLMAN CASE
WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., March 18.—
The possibility of indefinite postponement of arguments on two motions in the divorce suit of James A. Stillman, president of the National City bank of New York, against the former "Bill Boatley," was added today by John F.
Brennan, counsel for Mrs. Stillman.
He obtained from Supreme Court Justice Morschauer an order directing that next Wednesday morning arguments shall be made on the motion of Mrs. Stillman to require Mr. Stillman to show his financial status and on the motion for $10,000 a month alimony and $25,000 counsel fees.

WORKERS MUST BE AMERICANS

U. S. Cartridge Company is Dropping All Aliens From
Payrolls

Number of Employees to Lose
Places in Plant Tomorrow
Night

Within a short time the employees of the United States Cartridge company shops will be 100 per cent. Americans. Not a single man who is not a citizen of the United States will find work in the plant. The motto of the establishment will be "the jobs belong to the men of the U.S.A."
The work of dropping the aliens from the payrolls has been going on for some time. They have been slowly weeded out, and have lost their places gradually, but there has been no excitement aroused and the discharged men have not been subjected to the hardship that might have resulted if a large number of them had been dropped at one time.
A number of employees are to be dropped from the payrolls tomorrow night. The exact number is unknown, but it will probably not reach 100, it is stated. With this reduction in forces it is believed that few aliens will be left in the plant.
For some time past employees have been scurrying about to secure evidence of their being born in this country or of their naturalization. In the future it is expected that every person who may apply for work will be compelled to prove that he is an American before his application will be given consideration.
The weeding out of aliens by the Cartridge company is part of a movement that is country-wide. It was announced some months ago that Ingersoll, during the period of curtain-ment at least, would employ only citizens.
There are at present laws in some states that forbid the employment by any industrial or commercial establishment of any persons who cannot intelligently read and write the English language.

JUVENILE COURT
In the juvenile court this morning, three boys, two of them 16 years old and one 15 years old, appeared on charges of larceny. All cases were continued.

Spring Opening
At The Merrimack

The Store That Led All Others in the Recent and Distant Past Still in Front
It is only natural to learn that the Merrimack Clothing Co., which led the procession in the downward revision of prices in men's, women's and boys' wearables during the past year or two,
and also directed repeated and successful attacks on the high cost of living by the people of Lowell and vicinity by the inauguration of special sales and markdowns, once again leads all competitors in the annual showing of spring goods for the Easter season.
The recent policy of being a step or two ahead of all others is once again reflected in the display of brand new lines in the men's, women's and boys' departments. The recent $20,000 under cost sale, practically cleaned out these departments so that Manager Mahoney was obliged to replenish very materially, and of course, did so with the very newest and latest creations from the biggest and best manufacturers in the country.
In the men's department, some of the latest and most serviceable suits and sport styles are to be found. They are the kind which make them look after you. In the boys' department is the most complete line of suits to be found in the city, while the women's department has an array of dressy suits and clothes of excellent quality, smart and elegant in tailoring and carrying the Merrimack guarantee for service and satisfaction. They are the famous Wel-lex make. Enough said.
See our window display and get a definite idea of what your Easter season will be. Then ask our prices.
We are open tonight until 9 o'clock.

LLOYD GEORGE FACES CRISIS

Retirement of Bonar Law
From British Cabinet
Weakens Government

London Times Says Political Crisis of First Magnitude Created

LONDON, March 18.—A political crisis of the first magnitude has been created by the retirement of A. Bonar Law from the British cabinet. It is declared by the Times. Other newspapers while less emphatic, agree in saying that his resignation probably will materially weaken the coalition government. It is pointed out that no successor to him is likely to work so well with Lloyd George, and the Graphic even suggests that if Lloyd George is called upon to face a prospect of unsympathetic association he may find the strain of office intolerable and follow Bonar Law into retirement.
There are many forecasts relative to the new unionist leader whom the party will elect on Monday: Austen Chamberlain, chancellor of the exchequer; Sir Robert Horne, president of the board of trade, and Sir Edward Carson are given prominent mention.
Mr. Chamberlain, who is reported not to be in robust health, would presumably be appointed government leader in the house of commons in addition to the position of the lord of the privy seal, and in that case might find it impossible to continue to hold the chancellorship. People close to Lloyd George have indicated that Sir Robert Horne may succeed Mr. Chamberlain as chancellor, while the presidency of the board of trade may be taken by Sir P. Lloyd-George, at present parliamentary secretary for the board, or Stanley Baldwin, financial secretary of the treasury. Sir Robert has gone to the Riviera, while Sir Edward Carson plans to sail for Gibraltar tomorrow.
He is said to be disinclined to assume the government leadership in the commons.
Suggestions have been made in some quarters that Lloyd George himself take command of the unionist party which constitutes the bulk of his forces in parliament. The London Times remarks regarding this feature of the situation that the unionists as a whole will be willing to make every use of him as most zealous of his power.

Mr. Bonar Law is a widower and lost his two sons in the war. An intimate friend played chess with him Wednesday evening and suspected nothing, but a specialist who examined him yesterday ordered him to quit or face the gravest risks. He will go to the Riviera with his daughter and remain a couple of months.
FARM LABOR PLENTIFUL
FARGO, N. D., March 18.—Farm labor for spring and summer work in North Dakota will be plentiful at $30 and $35 a month. E. A. Wilson, Cash County agricultural agent, said today wages of $50 to $55 a month were paid last year.

Keep the Ball Rolling

CREDIT is all that is necessary to keep the Ball Rolling. It is Credit, not actual money as such, that carries the Big Man along. His Credit is based upon his supposed worth, established by his known CHAR-ACTER and Reputation. Character and Reputation are the Big Words so true with the man of small means and less known. He comes to a bank for help. He may be unknown to the bank. But he shows a savings account and thereby shows his Character. His hands of living; his habit of Thrift. He exhibits his creditworthiness for character. The bank sizes up the man as one worthy of help.
That's why a Savings Depositor has a stronger and a safer future than the man who never enters a bank.

IS ACQUITTED

Charge After 40 Days' Deliberation

Only One Ballot Taken,
a Secret One, Says 73-
Year-Old Foreman

ARDMORE, Okla., March 18.—Clara Smith Hamon, late yesterday was acquitted of a charge of having murdered Jake L. Hamon, republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, and millionaire railroad and oil promoter.
The jury was given the case at 4:30
p. m., and returned to the courtroom 40 minutes later. B. F. C. Laughridge, aged 33 years, the foreman, said only one ballot was taken, a secret one, confirming the ruling vote.
Clara Hamon obtained the information fully seven minutes before the verdict was rendered in open court and sat, surrounded by members of her family, half smiling, half afraid to believe the words of assurance that were beet toward her.
When Judge Thomas W. Champion announced the bench and received an affirmative response to his question:
"Gentlemen, have you reached a verdict?" her eyes followed the motion of the bailiff as he received the verdict.

Down Fundamentals Be-

CHICAGO, March 18.—Eleven basic principles on which labor would be willing to negotiate agreements were laid down before the railroad labor board today by J. M. Jewett, president of the railway employees department of the American Federation of Labor.
"These fundamentals, upon which the national agreements are based,"
he said, "consist only of those elementary principles and safeguards which enlightened public opinion has sanctioned and officially declared necessary to the well-being of the men and women employed not only in the transportation industry but in all basic indus-

EXCHANGE SHOT
FOR 3 HOURS

Mexican Smugglers Opened
Fire on American Immigration Officers

U. S. Troops Called Out and Firing Continued Until
Early This Morning

EL PASO, Texas, March 18.—United States soldiers and immigration officers early today were patrolling the Mexican border near here where from 10 o'clock last night until 1 a. m. they had exchanged shots with a party believed to be Mexican smugglers in which three Americans were wounded.
The Mexicans opened fire on three American immigration officers who discovered them fording the Rio Grande, which is about 50 yards wide at that point. The return fire of the immigration officers apparently wounded one of the three. Mexicans wading the river and was immediately answered by riflemen concealed in bushes on the Mexican side.
Five more inspectors and 100 soldiers of the 45th Infantry from El Paso responded to a call for assistance and for more than an hour the firing continued briskly the Americans firing at the flashes of the Mexican guns. An occasional scream of pain from the Mexican when indicated that the American fire was not without results.
At 1 a. m. the Mexican fire died down and a dim light was visible moving about on the Mexican side.
C. A. Perkins, inspector in charge of the immigration men, said he believed the Mexicans were attempting to smuggle over liquor or drugs.
The three Americans wounded were:
Private M. J. Kotter, Co. D, 45th Infantry, shot in left arm and scalp wound; Private Patsioski, shot through the hip, believed serious; Joseph Thomas, immigration inspector, scalp wound.

HOPES TO RE-INDICT
WHITE SOX PLAYERS

CHICAGO, March 18.—Robert E.
Crowe, state's attorney, today assigned a staff of attorneys to preparing the baseball game throwing cases for re-submittal to a grand jury with a view of re-indicting the seven players whose cases were dismissed yesterday.
Mr. Crowe said he hoped to go before the grand jury today and seek the re-indictments, but that if his assistants were unable to complete their work today he would take action as quickly as possible.
Less than two weeks remain in which the men could be re-indicted, the statute of limitations requiring action within 18 months after the act is alleged to have been committed.

PLAYGROUND TEACHERS
Civil Service Commission Requires Physical as Well as Mental Examination

More or less dissatisfaction has been aroused locally by the action of the civil service commission in requesting the Lowell young men and women who recently took a mental examination for the position of playground teachers on the local commons next summer to take a physical examination in Boston tomorrow.
Up to the present time, it has never been necessary for applicants for positions on the local playgrounds to take a civil service examination, but this year the civil service authorities have seen fit to make such examination a prerequisite to service. The salaries attached to the positions are more or less nominal and, of course, the length of service is but a few months per year.
The young men and women who took the trouble to take a trip to Boston to take the mental examination felt it an added imposition that they should be forced to make a second trip at short notice merely to take a physical examination.
Supt. John W. Kernan of the local park department feels that there is no necessity for the physical examination any more than for teachers in the public schools. He was opposed to the idea in the first place of an examination of any kind because of the inconvenience caused applicants by having to go to Boston. Previously, the park commission judged the qualifications of the applicant and made their appointments accordingly.

EXPLOSION WRECKS CAR
Trolley Manned by Strike Breakers Blown up in Albany, N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 18.—An explosion that partly wrecked a street car manned by strike breakers in Broadway last night was caused by several railroad torpedoes tied together on the track, the police said today.
The detonation blew the glass from windows and doors of some houses in the vicinity. A state trooper suffered injuries when thrown against the curbing and an elderly invalid, lying in bed at his home, was cut in the head by flying glass. Three arrests were made.
The car was returning to the North Albany barns empty after having conveyed a detail of strike breakers to a hotel.

GEN. WRANGEL APPEALS TO U. S. FOR AID

CONSTANTINOPLE, March 17.—(By the Associated Press.)—General Baron Wrangel, former anti-Bolshevik leader on the Crimean front, is appealing to the United States and other countries to furnish money so that his army, which he declares to be the only trained anti-Bolshevik force remaining, need not be disbanded.
The French, unwilling to continue advancing funds, have proposed the repatriation of his army asserting that with the exception of the officers, it was mistaken humanity which prompted the evacuation of General Wrangel's men from the Crimea.
In Japan the disposal of the husband's income is usually left to the wife.

BANDIT SHOT TO DEATH

Faced More Than 50 Policemen With Pistol in Each Hand—Officers Wounded

CHICAGO, March 18. Facing more than 50 policemen a bandit with pistol in each hand today was shot to death after he had kept up a steady fight with them until his ammunition was exhausted.
Several policemen were wounded and one, Detective Mix, is in a critical condition. Mix came upon the bandit patrolling a street corner early today and the man opened fire on him. His enforcements came to Mix's rescue and the bandit finally was cornered.

SHOT ON HIS WAY HOME

Buffalo Superintendent Dies
of Bullet Wound Inflicted
By Robber

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 18.—Luther
P. Graves, assistant plant superintendent of the Lumber Products Co., died early today from a bullet wound received to have been inflicted by a robber. The shooting occurred shortly after midnight. Mr. Graves had taken his automobile to a garage and was making a short cut across lots to his home in North street, when two shots were fired. One bullet struck Mr.
Graves in the abdomen.
The police theory is that Mr. Graves stumbled upon thieves who were trying to gain entrance to one of the two houses between which he was passing to reach his home.

HOW U. S. NAVY PLANS TO MASS IN PACIFIC

This map shows the United States Navy's plan to mass its fleet in the Pacific. It is reported that Uncle Sam and John Bull have reached an understanding by which the British will move the great bulk of the United States navy into the Pacific, leaving the Atlantic States navy the Pacific. Below the U.

S.S. New Mexico, flagship of the Atlantic fleet, and Admiral Henry B. Wilson, who is slated to be new commander of the greatly enlarged Pacific fleet. Plans under consideration call for making Oahu, where the Pearl harbor base is located, the Gibraltar of the Pacific. Guam would become a great submarine base. Coaling stations and bases including the Philippine, Midway and Wake islands, Samoa and the west coast points shown on the map would be strengthened and enlarged.

GREAT TENNIS MATCH

Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Morris Hold Place in Competition for Title

BOSTON, March 18.—Annals of women's tennis championship play contain few parallels to the match in which Mrs. Franklin L. Mallory and Mrs. L. G. Morris of New York held their place in the competition for the National indoor doubles title today. Opposed by Mrs. T. H. Cabot and Miss Edith Sigourney of this city, Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Morris had been beaten back until only a single point remained to eliminate them.

They had won the first set 6-4 and lost the second set, 3-6, and the local players had won the first five games of the third set and stood 10-30 on the sixth. Mrs. Mallory waved her partner back and standing almost on the base line, a shot from Miss Sigourney that might have counted against them was turned into a deep placement on the opponents' court. Shot after shot afterwards was smashed back so hard, so deep, or so short that their opponents were at a loss for return.

The sixth game was won by the New Yorkers and the six games after that also while the Boston players always within a single game of winning were held off until Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Morris could drive home the points that gave them victory, 7-5. The match was in the fourth round of the doubles tournament.

Mrs. B. L. Cole, 2d. of Andover, defeated Mrs. W. H. Trumbull of Weston in a semi-final of the singles championship, 6-0, 6-1, and paired with Mrs. P. H. Geoffrey of Brookline won a 6-3, 7-5 victory over Misses Harriet Kimball and Margaret Cook of Brookline in the second round of doubles.

Mrs. C. W. Wightman and Miss Marion Zinderstein of Boston defeated Mrs. N. W. Niles and Mrs. S. M. Feltton, another local team, in the third round, 6-1, 6-3, in which Mrs. Cabot and Miss Sigourney earlier in the day had eliminated Misses Martha Bayard and Veres Baker of New York 6-2, 6-0.

EX-RAY OF THE EARTH'S ATMOSPHERE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The Carnegie institution of Washington has just completed what might be termed an ex-ray of the earth's atmosphere, and has forwarded from here all data in regard to the experiment, which was made through the use of the non-magnetic ship Carnegie, which arrived here recently.

The x-ray was in the form of observations of compass and other magnetic variations on all of the earth's oceans, these variations being traced in the atmosphere by two specially designed instruments called a deflector and magnetometer. These tracings later will be shown on a chart, which might be likened to the x-ray plate; this chart will be made available to every navy and merchant marine on earth as a guide to navigation, as nearly exact as it is humanly possible to make such a guide.

So intensively and penetratingly did the instruments work, aided by the utter absence of magnetic attraction by everything else on the vessel, that certain degrees of longitude in the Indian ocean were found recently to be radically different from the best charts and projections available up to that time. In some instances these differences amounted to several minutes.

There is a constant play of these variations over the magnetic fields, and the cause of this play or change, although exhaustively theorized upon, never has been exactly explained, the Carnegie scientists said. These magnetic changes make the utilization of the non-magnetic ship and its instruments and the preparation of new charts constantly necessary. For instance a mariner using a magnetic chart prepared by the institution ten years ago could not steer as accurately as if he consulted a chart prepared but a year ago.

The magnetic ship made an absolute myth out of the general belief that the compass always points directly north. It added convincing proof to the scientific theory that there are only two longitudinal lines, one of them extremely irregular, where such a thing occurs. Whenever a ship crosses one of these lines the compass will get the direct polar influence. Everywhere else it will point east of north or west of north.

In the taking of these figurative x-rays and the compilation of its data, sometimes interestingly geographical as well as magnetic, the Carnegie has travelled more than 300,000 miles since she was launched June 12, 1909. She is the only vessel credited with having circumnavigated the globe in the sub-Antarctic regions. In this voyage, entirely within the confines of the Great Southern Ocean, which has come to be the scientific name for the Antarctic, she stopped but once, that being at the island of Georgia, a whaling station in the South Pacific.

On the present voyage, which began in October, 1919, she touched at French West Africa, Buenos Aires, the island of St. Helena, where Napoleon was exiled, Capetown, Ceylon, Australia, New Zealand, Papeete, the Fanning Islands and San Francisco. She will go from here to Samoa and the Panama Canal and then home to Washington.

The Carnegie was compelled to use her auxiliary gas engine a number of times to take her out of equatorial calm belts and to help drive her through storm tossed seas when the sails were in danger of blowing away. This engine contains the only magnetic influence on board, but it is so far away from the recording instruments that it has absolutely no effect on them.

The Carnegie carries a complement of 23 persons. Captain J. P. Ault of Washington has full charge of both the navigation of the vessel and the recording of the magnetic data. He is assisted by a second in command, Lieutenant H. F. Johnston of the British navy who resides in Toronto. Andrew Thompson, Toronto; Robert M. Mills, Washington; and H. B. Grumman, Lincoln, Neb., act as observers.

The Carnegie is not a government enterprise but is solely under the direction of the departments of terrestrial magnetism of the Carnegie institution.

RUSSIAN REVOLUTIONISTS QUIT KRONSTADT

HELSINGFORS, March 18.—Kronstadt has surrendered to the soviet forces. This announcement is made by the revolutionary committee of Kronstadt which has arrived in Finland accompanied by 800 soldiers. Before retreating from Kronstadt the revolutionists blew up the warships Petropavlovsk and Sebastopol.

Gen. Kozlovski, leader of the revolutionists, has also arrived in Finland. Kronstadt was taken by the soviet forces at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, according to a Bolshevik news agency.

The arrival of the Kronstadt revolutionary committee and 800 soldiers at Terioki, on the Finnish frontier, is confirmed.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

OPERA HOUSE

The gripping, absorbing story of Alaska, told in regular Rex Beach fashion, called "The Barter," which is being given this week by the Lowell Players, at the Opera House, is attracting capacity audiences at all performances. The production compares favorably with the best given by any stock company for many seasons past, and richly deserves the favorable comment being showered on the engaging cast and director. Don't miss the superb offering.

The offering for the coming week will be Mrs. Henry Wood's great emotional drama, "East Lynne," in which Miss Fields will appear in a dual role, and the rest of the company in parts that especially fit their accomplishments. Order your tickets early.

THE STRAND

William Farnum is always pleasing and fascinating, but in "The Southern" he has a role that is especially strong and entertaining. It is a story of the sea, with all the fascination that a clever story of this sort carries. Two kinds of love is the other feature, and this also is most satisfying. It gives "Breezy" Eason, the child wonder of the screen, ample opportunity to display unusual ability. The comedy and weekly, and the piano recital by Miss Morgan are most commendable.

THE STRAND

Through the courtesy of the management of The Strand, the pupils of the high school will attend a private piano recital at that theatre Saturday forenoon at 10:30 o'clock, to be given by Miss Marguerite Morgan of Andover, the 17-year-old school girl wonder who has been appearing at the theatre afternoon and evening during the week. In connection with the recital, General Manager Soriero has arranged for the showing of a special motion picture program of educational value and merit.

RIALTO THEATRE

The moving pictures taken at the Rialto theatre last week form the feature of a stellar attraction for the week end. These show the local amateurs at their very best and the presentation forms the nucleus of a strong bill. The other attractions are Josephine Earle in "The Edge of Youth," Neal Hart in a northwestern melodrama, "The Sky Fire," a Mermaid comedy, "April Fool," episode four, of "Fighting Fate" and the Fox news. Don't fail to see this week end attraction, for it combines drama and comedy and is quite entertaining.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Get a snifter of eccentric dancing and some unusual vaudeville when you visit the B. F. Keith theatre, this week, and see Miller and Mac in their funny act. You will also get a touch of novelty in "Lying on Air," which Howard Anderson and Rean Graves present, and in the "Portraits Musical," Betty Doan & Co. do some interesting work. Among the other acts of the week Arthur Whitelaw, the Irish chatterbox, stands out prominently, and McLaughlin & Evans in their burlesque dancing are lively. Smith and John Nathan contribute some specially good equilibrist acts, and Dallas Walker is a rope spinner and dancer.

BURKES HOLD ANNUAL CONCERT AND DANCE

More than 1000 people attended the annual dance of the Burke Temperance Institute, which was held in Associated Ball last evening. The early part of the evening was taken up with concert numbers by the orchestra and later general dancing was started and continued till a seasonable hour. The success of the event was due to the efforts of the following officers: John Maguire, general manager; Thomas Mooney, floor director; James Leonard, assistant; John Winn, treasurer; William Mahoney and John Doyle entertained the large audience with vocal selections.

Travelers state that fifteen years ago the principal objects of interest along the beaten track of the old Santa Fe trail were skulls, vertebrae and ribs of cattle and buffaloes. Now a traveler traversing the same country finds numerous abandoned automobiles, some overturned, some buried and others smashed and looted.

Aluminum Salad Mold—Style D

Free to You

A salad mold to use with Jiffy-Jell

Jiffy-jell in lime-fruit flavor makes a tart, green salad. Here is an aluminum mold to use with it—to make a salad loaf for six. It is worth 50 cents, but we supply it free. See offer below.

Jiffy-Jell comes in ten flavors. Eight are dessert flavors; to make real fruit desserts.

The flavors come in liquid form, in bottles. We crush the fruit, condense the juice and seal it. So the fruit is rich and fresh and abundant in Jiffy-Jell desserts. Old-style desserts have the flavors in dry form.

Millions now use Jiffy-Jell for the children's sake. It is real fruit essence which makes these desserts so healthful and delicious.

No extra price

Despite these costly flavors,

We also make Jiffy-Pie, a new dessert, in two flavors—Lemon and Chocolate. Ask your grocer

Jiffy-Jell costs no more than like desserts without them. So you should insist on Jiffy-Jell—the quality desserts. You owe that to yourself.

Now is the time to serve Jiffy-Jell in plenty. Fruit is costly—Jiffy-Jell is not. And everybody needs fruit every day.

Our mold offer

Buy from your grocer six packages Jiffy-Jell in assorted flavors. Cut out the trade-marks in the cut out front of package. Send the six trade-marks with the coupon below and we will mail this aluminum salad mold.

Like Jiffy-Jell with salad will make a salad loaf. With meat scraps it will make a meat loaf. Cut out coupon now.

PLANNING TO TIGHTEN UP VOLSTEAD LAW

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Reports that prohibition eaders in congress are planning to tighten up the Volstead law have opened a regular scramble for assignments on the house judiciary committee, which will frame the amended law, if one is to be introduced at the extra session next month.

The committee heretofore has consisted of 13 republicans and eight democrats. The new lineup, because of the increased republican majority, will be 15 republicans and 6 democrats. There are seven places to be filled, most of them on the democratic side. If all should be given to anti-prohibitionists the dry forces still would be in supreme command.

Friends of Chairman Volstead declared today that the movement recently started in some quarters to oust him from leadership had about petered out. The naming of committee chairman is in the hands of the committee on judiciary, which is expected to hold its old rule by which top place goes to seniority rank. Several members of the judiciary committee who will not be in the next congress, voted against the Volstead law but they did not seek re-election. Of the republican members who supported the enforcement act one died and the other was defeated for re-nomination in the primary.

In checking over the names of applicants for judiciary assignments leaders said it was shown that many hailed from the big cities.

Y. M. C. I. MINSTRELS

Annual "Irish Night" Concert in Institute Hall

Y.M.C.I. minstrels entertained a large number of members of the organization and their friends in the annual "Irish Night" concert given last evening in the institute hall in Stockpole street. A mixed chorus of good size, a series of excellent solos and a comedy sketch, "The New Judge," were a few of the evening's features. Following the entertainment general dancing was enjoyed. Charles J. Keyes was stage director of the entertainment, and John McElroy, general director. Miss Vera Curran added much to the success of the affair by her work as accompanist.

President Thomas E. Clark was general manager of the evening and Edward D. Higgins, assistant general manager. The committee in charge was headed by George Callahan as chairman, Gerald Murphy, secretary and Michael Kaeo, treasurer.

The evening's program in detail was as follows:

AMERICA LEADS IN FIXING WAGES AND PRICES

LONDON, March 18.—America is dealing with the problem of reconstruction and the restoration of trade more energetically and more successfully than is the case in England, Sir Algernon Fifth, former president of the Association of British chambers of commerce, declares in a Times interview. Sir Algernon has returned recently from his 51st visit to the United States.

Among factors cited as to American advantage in the situation, the British business man states, were a more rapid reduction of values than in England and co-operation of labor in reducing the costs of production. Mill workers in the United States, he said, are accepting wage reductions of as much as 33 1-3 per cent. in order to enable manufacturers to turn out goods at prices which the public would pay. He said if this movement went much further it would mean that the United States would soon be in a strong position in the matter of exporting goods and would be able to secure business that would otherwise come to Great Britain. American hours of work were about the same as those in England, he stated, but the men worked much harder while they were in the mills. Sir Algernon expressed an opinion that trade would improve in America toward April, based on the fact that bottom prices were being reached, promising restored confidence and increased buying. He urged open and frank dealing with Americans and co-operation between the two nations. He said he did not attach much importance to the question of tariffs because of the creditor position of the United States.

STATE MOTOR CORPS New Jersey May Have Motorcycle Police Force

TRENTON, N. J., March 18.—A state motorcycle police force for patrolling the main highways has been recommended to Gov. Edwards by a committee appointed by him to find ways to combat the lawlessness prevailing through the state. The members chose the motorcycle as the most efficient and economical vehicle for the purpose. The committee advises that a state intelligence department be organized for the securing of evidence and detection of crime. This department would include a force of motorcycle patrolmen. They would patrol the highways, at the same time co-operating with county and municipal forces. Signal stations at important points along the country highways are also suggested so that every highway patrolman may be in close touch with the central office. By placing these officers and the intelligence force under the supervision of the state highways or motor vehicle department, the committee believes control over country driving would be centralized and more effective than otherwise.

TAKE A WALK

Before you owned a machine, you used to walk to the car line in the morning and back home in the evening. You used to exercise your leg and body muscles on many a short errand. Now you use the bus and, if you work the car too much on such trips, your legs will become weak and your muscles flabby. You can't keep yourself active and in good health by sitting behind the steering wheel whenever you're outside. Take a walk whenever you can, to maintain your vigor.

400,000 WAR VETERANS OUT OF WORK IN U. S.

NEW YORK, March 18.—There were 400,000 veterans of the world war out of work in the United States on March 1 last, according to an estimate received by the American Legion. This is a reduction of about 100,000 from the "peak" of more than 500,000 jobless ex-service men in the country shortly after January 1 last and the Legion reports state there is promise of further improvement.

The survey of the national situation on which these figures are based was made by the American Legion Weekly, official publication of the Legion which states that the unemployment situation as affecting the veterans "appears to have taken a turn for the better."

A chain of employment agencies operated by the Legion in every state has done much to relieve the situation, say the Legion officials. The Legion has been instrumental in obtaining work for veterans, in discouraging the migration of unemployed men toward the great industrial centers and has encouraged a movement from cities to the farms. It has demanded that workers who left their positions to go to war should enjoy seniority rights on a par with those of military age who stayed at home.

Ex-service men have suffered more in proportion to their numbers than other workers, according to the Legion's survey, because of the operation of seniority rules and efficiency standards. Nearly a year is required for the returned veteran to get back to his old stride in industry, according to the testimony of large employers of labor. Another thing that has handicapped the ex-soldier is his restlessness and nomadic tendencies, both products of the strain and circumstances of war service.

Reopening factories and mills in the textile regions of New England and in the mining and industrial centers of Pennsylvania leads observers in those parts to believe the worst is past, according to the Legion's survey.

vey. The automobile centers of Detroit, Cleveland and Indianapolis report a slight improvement of conditions. In Chicago conditions are stationary, it is said.

Throughout the agricultural middle west a general movement from the cities and towns to the farms is reported. The average ex-soldier had little taste for agriculture when he came back from the war. It was hard to keep them down on the farm after they had "seen Paris." They chose to work in the small factories or stores in the neighboring country soil, where, during 1919, jobs were plenty and wages high. When those jobs began to go there was at first an exodus toward the larger cities. The Legion strove to discourage this. That movement has about spent itself and farmers throughout the west now report little difficulty in getting help, and except in the larger cities there are few able-bodied ex-service men reported out of work in the middle west.

The south reports improvement. Dixie has been burdened with a larger quota of winter flunkies than usual this year, according to reports. Some are now finding farm work in the south, others are drifting north, largely to settle on farms.

The Pacific coast, a land where there are the three great seasonal occupations of fishing, lumbering and fruit raising, has been able to decrease the number of jobless veterans by half in two months, according to advices from there. In Washington state there were 1000 unemployed veterans on January 1 and 2500 on February 1.

EASTER ORDERS

Today and Saturday

I never saw more gratifying business than that which the people of Lowell are giving me today.

Understand me—I am not new—I am not a flash in the pan—I am an old timer. This is my thirteenth year in your city.

When men come into a store, make their own selection of cloth and walk up to the salesman and say, make this up for me, you have my measure on the books. I ask you, what can I do to repay the confidence?

I don't take any credit for giving you wonderful goods—I am not entitled to any credit for keeping the prices low—I don't do these things, you do them for yourself.

The way men crowd my store makes the woolens and low prices possible—their enormous business makes my organization—I am only a part of the machine.

DOCTORS, LAWYERS, BUSINESS MEN—all crowd elbows in MITCHELL THE TAILOR'S these days for styles in goods they can't seem to get in old quarters during this woolen pitch, while prosperous mechanics walk into my store and say to one of my salesmen, measure me for one of those 16 oz. Blue Serges, the same as what I had two years ago.

If I did not have such a faithful army of old customers, you could never buy the goods I sell at my prices. If you think I must have poor goods because my prices are low, you are 100 per cent. wrong and you can prove it to your own satisfaction in about two minutes. You don't have to look at the goods—Come in any day this week and see the crowds of old customers placing orders for their garments.

SPECIAL

I beg my old customers to leave their orders early, letting me take my time, if they are not in a hurry.

Easter Sunday ten days away. If you will be fair with me I shall not disappoint you. Order your Easter suit early and by doing so you give the late comers a chance.

(Signed) MITCHELL.

BELIEVE BIG BUILDING STRIKE NEAR END

BOSTON, March 18.—The possibility of the building trades strike in this city being terminated tomorrow, to be followed by the immediate resumption of building operations in Greater Boston, which have been tied up since Jan. 20, was intimated yesterday at the state house following a fruitful conference between representatives of the Building Trades Employers' Association and the Building Trades Council.

Both sides to the controversy appeared hopeful that when they meet again tomorrow with the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration that whatever differences exist will be overcome by mutual concessions, and that a plan of agreement satisfactory to each may be drawn up.

The conference yesterday started at 10:30 and continued until evening, with Chairman Edward Fisher presiding. Only a brief recess was taken for luncheon and during this recess, subcommittees from both sides were in conference on a number of matters. Many times both sides adjourned to adjournments to discuss proposals from the other side. Not a word as to what went on was given out by the state board or by either side, this being at the suggestion of Chairman Fisher.

The representatives of the Employers' association included Pres. Parker F. Soule, Sec. John F. Walsh, Albert D. Howlett, Walter Ewart, William H. Root, James J. Scully, Robert H. Hall, and P. W. Lynahue. The Building Trades Council was represented by James T. Moriarty, chairman of the strike committee; Pres. John Carroll, Sec. B. A. Johnson, James Gould, Edward Kelley, Jeffrey Boudreau and G. E. Flynn.

BIG ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 18.—Turning their annual St. Patrick's day celebration into a great demonstration of loyalty for the Republic of Ireland, thousands of New York's Irish marched up Fifth Avenue yesterday in a parade that lasted more than three hours.

Some of the most stirring sentiments against England were carried by the women's organizations. One of their posters read: "England, Damn Your Concessions—We Want Our Country," and another described "English rule in the 20th Century," as "The Torch, the Bullet, the Scaffold."

Uniformed cadets from several schools in New York marched to the music of Irish folk songs. The air was filled all afternoon with strains of "Wearing of the Green," "Kathleen Blumhagen" and "My Irish Molly." Mixed with these tunes were bagpipe serenades played by Irish Highlanders marching in kilts and tam o'shanter.

They were watched by tens of thousands packing the sidewalks and windows along more than 70 blocks of the avenue, and overflowing into Central Park and side streets.

Rainbow Division, veterans of the 65th National Guard regiment, known as "The Fighting Irish," marching in their service uniforms and carrying rifles, held the place of honor in the long pageant. Fluttering above them were the Stars and Stripes, the regimental standard and blue silk banners with rainbow centres, while for miles to the rear the scores of Irish organizations and bands came tramping along with the green, white and gold flag of the Irish republic. This tri-color waved everywhere, replacing almost entirely the green banner with golden harp inscribed "Erin Go Bragh," so numerous in past processions on the feast day of Ireland's patron saint.

The parades were reviewed by Mayor Hylan, former Gov. Smith and a number of Catholic clergy, including the Rev. Francis P. Duffy, chaplain of the "Fighting Sixty-Ninth."

GERMAN REVIVAL SEEN BY CHAS. M. SCHWAB

NEW YORK, March 18.—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, who sailed hence six weeks ago on a recuperative European trip, returned yesterday by the White Star liner Olympic, looking and feeling unusually brisk and cheerful, and ready, as he declared, to go back into harness, again with all his heart. One of the first things he did after arriving at his home in Riverside Drive was to take an observational spin over the city in an automobile, which helped him to appreciate its markets as contrasted with those of European capitals.

Although Mr. Schwab, accompanied by his friend Dr. S. A. Brown, toured only France and Italy, he devoted some time getting in touch with conditions in Germany through talks with German manufacturers and economists. "Germany will recover from the effects of the world war," he said, "much sooner perhaps than any other of the European countries involved in it. I noted that France and Italy were getting on their feet swiftly, but from the information I obtained I am confident that the world will have to look out for Germany as a possible competitor in much shorter time than is generally allotted to her."

"I believe, however, that the United States need have no fear of being outstripped by Germany industrially, and in regard to shipping I have no doubt that we will still retain the lead we have achieved and are achieving."

"Germany is a conquered country and her people are aware of it, but they are like a strong man who has failed in business and sets his teeth determined to win back what he has lost by hard work and competent management. The secret of Germany's previous industrial success was the efficiency of her workers. They still have that efficiency and that training that is necessary to win in the world of commerce and manufactures. Business is bad, of course in Germany as in all other countries, including America, but it is on the mend."

Mr. Schwab was unwilling to talk

just yet about the subject of reparations and did not care to discuss the exchange question. He said he believed that a moderate protective tariff, enough to save the American worker from being harmed by the competition of foreign goods, might be necessary to the United States. In his audience with the pope Mr. Schwab said the holy father showed great interest in the newly elected president and national affairs.

While in Rome Mr. Schwab, dining with Archbishop Hayes of this diocese, who returned from Italy the other day, of John W. Davis, retiring ambassador to England, who was also a passenger by the Olympic. Mr. Schwab spoke in high terms, remarking that he doubted if any former American ambassador had left so many friends behind in England.

J. H. Thomas, vice-president of the International Mercantile Marine company, returning from a trip of inspection in Hamburg and other parts of Germany, confirmed the impression of Mr. Schwab that Germany was preparing to "come back" with a bang. Mr. Thomas said he was surprised at the apparent prosperity existing in Germany. "There seemed to be food aplenty," said Mr. Thomas, "and one could get anything he wanted to pay for."

"I saw no evidence of suffering on the part of any one. There were no others anywhere; everybody seemed to be busy and cheerful. In a trip to rail across Germany to Antwerp, I saw many things that were not to be seen elsewhere and business seemed to be going on in the most efficient manner. My observation might be called superficial, but the suffering I expected to see, wan faces and pinched features, certainly were lacking."

Mr. Thomas said he found the port of Hamburg in fine condition and that the former German customs' Bismarck, recently acquired by the International Mercantile Marine for use in the White Star service, would be regarded as one of the wonders of the world. She was 25 per cent. completed and would be in service in less than 12 months.

PEDRO ZAMORA, FAMOUS MEXICAN BANDIT, DEAD

MEXICO CITY, March 18.—Pedro Zamora, for the last ten years one of the most formidable bandits operating along the western coast of Mexico, is dead, as a result of wounds received in a recent battle with federal troops near the town of Zenguntla, state of Jalisco.

He was first a lieutenant of Villa, after which he joined Zapata, but finally operated independently in the states of Jalisco, Michoacan and Colima. An extensive area in these states was under his control for a long time. Last August he raided the towns of Atlixan and Quatlan, from which he carried off a number of captives, including seven Americans and several British subjects. It was said that 15 girls carried off from Quatlan committed suicide.

Several days ago it was reported that Zamora was again leading a rebellion and federal troops were sent against him. His forces were encountered at Zenguntla and he received mortal wounds.

"FLIPPETY-FLAP'S IDEA"

"LITTLE GIRL, WILL YOU PLEASE HOLD MY BABY?"

"Do you still like the circus?" asked Flippety-Flap, the fairyman. Mrs. Kangaroo jumped. She hadn't noticed Nancy and Nick nor their odd companion approaching.

"Sh!" She held up a warning hand. "Not so loud. I just got Kicky to bed."

"Yes," whispered Nancy. "We saw you put him in."

"And I don't want him to know how I long for the circus. It's all I think of, really."

"But why did you leave?"

"Well," said Mrs. Kangaroo, soberly, "when the gnomes came along one night and unlocked the door of my cage, I had been thinking. Kicky was growing up, and no chance to learn a thing. How could he stretch his legs in a two by four cage and learn to take steps 20 feet long? How could he ever learn to stand properly on his tail? I had to bring him home, where there was room, to teach him a few things."

"Can't I persuade you to go back?" asked Flippety-Flap. "Here spring's coming and what will all the children do when there is no circus?"

"I know," nodded the kangaroo, reaching for her hanky and blowing her nose loudly. "I have to weep when I think of it. And I'll forget all the boxing I ever knew. I love to box."

A crowd look came into Flippety-Flap's little eyes, and he looked slyly down at his enormous feet.

"Would you mind boxing with me?" he asked quickly. "I can box beautifully and I just happened to bring my boxing gloves along, also an extra pair."

"Oh, I should love it!" cried Mrs. Kangaroo, hastily unstrapping the little girl, who was sitting in front of her, and in which Kicky slept. "Little girl, will you please hold my baby?"

Nancy held out her arms.

HOW TO PRESERVE EGGS WITH WATER GLASS

By the use of Water Glass (Sodium Silicate) it is possible to preserve eggs for months. The Water Glass has no chemical action on the eggs but keeps out the air.

Use one gallon of Water Glass and nine gallons of water. One quart of Water Glass will make enough liquid for a five-gallon crock full of eggs. Place eggs in crock and pour the solution over them until they are covered.

The eggs should be absolutely fresh, not three or four days old. They should be kept in a cool place.

Water Glass has nothing harmful in it. When taken out of the solution, use clear water to wash eggs.

INDUSTRIAL COURT LAW

Review of Its Workings in Kansas From Mine Union Officials' Point of View

TOPEKA, Kans., March 18.—A review of the workings of the Kansas industrial court law from a mine union official's point of view has been made by Alexander Howat, President of District No. 14, United Mine Workers of America. Mr. Howat says:

"The industrial court has been in existence one year. During that period it has accomplished nothing in bettering labor's condition in this state. A few wage claims involving but a very small number of men have been handled by the industrial court, a few crumbs handed out as a bait to labor, but for every penny that has been paid out to labor, hundreds of dollars have been given to the public utilities corporations in increased rates. Eight or ten cents an hour increase was given to the employees of the Joplin & Pittsburg Railway company, who were already working for a starvation wage of $3.50 or $4 per day, and the passenger rates of the company were almost doubled."

"The industrial court also added about 33 1/3 per cent to the value of the telephone company at Topeka, and did the same at Kansas City, Kansas, and permitted these rates to be adjusted accordingly."

"The industrial court has cost the tax payers many thousands of dollars directly, and many hundreds of thousands of dollars in increased rates to public utilities that have been given by the industrial court. It has prevented no strikes and has done nothing but aggravate the labor problem and create industrial strife."

"Every honest, self-respecting working man in the state should resent a law of this character. There is no law even in the most autocratic country of Europe today that enslaves the workers in such a manner as is intended by this law."

"This law is an infringement on the sacred rights of every honest working man in the state of Kansas. This so-called industrial court law is an insult to every man who believes in the principles of liberty and justice and is a disgrace to the state of Kansas. This law is meant to enslave organized labor and to place us in the same condition that we were in years ago, before we had established the United Mine Workers. It is meant to place us at the complete mercy of the employers of labor. It is intended to destroy the usefulness and effectiveness of our organization, and in fact, is only the beginning of a movement that is finally intended to enslave the working class of America and to destroy the organized labor movement of the entire country."

"Organized labor is not opposed to the industrial court law because of our desire to call strikes, but we know from bitter experiences of the past what it means to us if we surrender the right to strike, or if that right is taken away from us. It is only because we have in the past enjoyed the right to strike that we have ever been able to compel the employers of labor to grant any concessions that have been accorded us. We know how little sympathy or consideration we may expect at the hands of the employers when we are chained to our jobs like slaves. Organized labor in Kansas has a right to expect the same degree of liberty and justice, that is accorded to organized workers in the other states of the nation, and we are going to continue to fight until that principle is recognized and re-established in this state. Unions and industrial courts shall not be permitted to interfere without penalty in any way."

The Kansas industrial court law was the outcome of the miners' strike of 1919 and was passed chiefly through the influence of Governor Henry J. Allen. It created a court of three members to hear controversies in industries and utilities; was given power to intervene on its own initiative in industrial controversies, and may make orders relative to wages and hours of employment.

The law declares it unlawful for operators to willfully limit or cease operations for the purpose of limiting production or transportation or to effect prices for the purpose of avoiding any of the provisions of the act.

The law also declares it to be unlawful for any two or more employees in industries named to conspire to quit and justice, that is accorded to organized workers in the other states of the nation, and we are going to continue to fight until that principle is recognized and re-established in this state. Unions and industrial courts shall not be permitted to interfere without penalty in any way."

The Kansas industrial court law was the outcome of the miners' strike of 1919 and was passed chiefly through the influence of Governor Henry J. Allen. It created a court of three members to hear controversies in industries and utilities; was given power to intervene on its own initiative in industrial controversies, and may make orders relative to wages and hours of employment.

The law declares it unlawful for operators to willfully limit or cease operations for the purpose of limiting production or transportation or to effect prices for the purpose of avoiding any of the provisions of the act.

The law also declares it to be unlawful for any two or more employees in industries named to conspire to quit employment for the purpose of hindering, delaying or suspending operations.

The right of any individual to quit employment at any time is recognized.

The law provides that a willful violation of provisions of the act or of an order of court is a misdemeanor, punishable by a maximum fine of $1,000, a maximum term of one year, or both.

In the case of an officer of a corporation or the officer of a labor organization who willfully violates the provisions of the act, they will be guilty of a felony, punishable by a maximum fine of $500 or a maximum term of two years, or both.

Dr. Brough of Boston Health Department Summarily Removed by Commissioner Woodward

BOSTON, March 18.—After 25 years' service in the municipal health department, Dr. David H. Brough, $3,000 deputy in charge of the medical system, was summarily removed last night by Health Commissioner W. C. Woodward,

"because of incapacity, incompetence, and neglect of duty."

Dr. Woodward would not talk of the case to reporters. From another source it was learned that Boston's recently reported single smallpox case figures in Dr. Brough's dismissal.

It was noted that Dr. Woodward's refusal to talk now of the case is based on his belief that Dr. Brough will take his case into court, having retained Attorney Timothy F. Callahan when Dr. Woodward informed him of his dismissal.

Dr. Brough is a bachelor and makes his home at 45 Charles street. Entered the department in September, 1894, as a medical inspector, he gradually rose to the head of that squad, and in April, 1917, was made deputy commissioner.

At the time of this promotion, however, he did not qualify under civil service, so it is pointed out that he cannot now apply to Dr. Woodward for a public hearing of his case, as is the right of city employees discharged by department heads. He can, however, a hearing of his case by filing his story with City Clerk James Donovan, and he may institute court action.

Dancing, an entertainment, and refreshments were made an enjoyable evening for the employees of the spinning and spooling department of the Massachusetts cotton mills, who held a social in the club room last night. Miss Sadie Delaney was in charge of the arrangements, while J. C. Chetnam, overseer of both departments, acted as floor director. Assisting as directors of the affair were Messrs. James Bowen, Peter McLaughlin, James Ryan, William Wilson, J. W. Harding, Hugh Matthews and Patrick Nevin. Those present included Superintendent and Mrs. Albino Gregory, assistant superintendent Orin Webster, and Charles Eggle, club supervisor, of Brookline, Mass. Refreshments were served by a committee composed of Mesdames Taylor, Ellis and Gallagher. More than two hundred guests were present. The entertainment included specialties by the Davine sisters, who gave songs; and dances, Scotch dances by Miss Agnes Burdell, a butterfly dance by five-year-old Mary Mooney, and solos by Walter Kelly and Leona McInerney. The Davine sisters, Miss Burdell, and little Mary Mooney, are the pupils of Miss Blanche E. Perrin, who was also in attendance. Old fashioned dances were a feature of the social dancing, the quadrille and the Portland fancy being greatly enjoyed.

LOOKING FOR GUNMEN

The Billerica police are endeavoring to locate the three gunmen who held up A. V. Lloyd at the point of a revolver in his store at Harnden's corner a few days ago. It seems that the men entered the store and made a purchase of candy and while the owner was making change one of the trio pulled a revolver from his coat pocket and ordered the storekeeper to throw up his hands. Lloyd complied with the order but suddenly darted through the door into an adjoining room and this turn upset the plans of the burglars, who made a quick exit, leaving the town in an automobile. The matter was reported to Officer Livingston.

MUST DISPOSE OF LIQUORS BY MAY 15

WASHINGTON, March 18.—The wholesale liquor establishment, brother of the bar, will be put to death May 15 under sentence pronounced yesterday by Prohibition Commissioner Kramer.

Although an opinion rendered by Atty-Gen. Palmer last December said the wholesaler had no legal right to continue in business, internal revenue and prohibition officials decided to grant some time in which he could unload stocks without too heavy monetary loss. But Mr. Kramer's announcement yesterday made it clear there would be no further extension of time and that execution of the sentence would be carried out.

Mr. Kramer, however, opened the way for the retail druggist to obtain supplies for prescriptions, removing the ban on withdrawals from bonded warehouses. For several months such warehouse doors have been closed. The order yesterday makes it possible for the retail druggist to transact business direct with the bonded warehouses. Wholesale druggists will be taken care of later, Mr. Kramer indicated, by granting them similar privileges.

Dealings between retail druggists and other purchasers and the bonded warehouses later will be limited by regulations which officials declared would be drastic enough to satisfy the most ardent dry advocate. They must be based, however, it was added, on Mr. Palmer's opinion. It is planned to put them in effect at the time the wholesale houses go out of existence.

So far as the wholesaler is concerned, Mr. Kramer said, his one task now is to get rid of the stocks on hand. He will not be allowed to increase his present holdings, but there are no strings tied to him in selling to druggists, either wholesale or retail, before May 16. Officials announced no figures concerning the amount of liquor held by the wholesalers but said they believed the stocks largely would be disposed of before the doors are closed finally.

Prohibition officials declined to comment on the statement in Philadelphia yesterday of former Attorney-General Palmer, who said his recent ruling that physicians may prescribe beer might mean that beer could be sold over soda fountain counters. Regulations carrying out Mr. Palmer's opinion, handed down the day before he retired from office, will be left to the next commissioner of internal revenue, said Commissioner Williams, adding that therefore the full effect of the opinion could not now be determined.

The revenue and prohibition bureaus have been besieged since the Palmer opinion was made public, both wet and dry urging their sides for consideration of the officials in drafting the regulations. Although considerable study has been given to the ruling, there was no indication that the regu-

AUSTRIANS TOLD TO PLOT TO RESTORE EMPEROR

VIENNA, March 18. (By the Associated Press.)—If monarchism is to come to Austria it must, like Bolshevism, come from within. This is the opinion of men whose business it is to watch and weigh royalist activity.

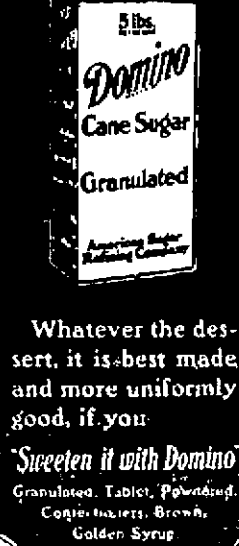

That there is royalist activity goes without saying. Carl (formerly emperor) and his followers, the little court of semi and semi and near royalty and adventurous gentlemen of many nationalities he has about him in Switzerland, still intrigues and plots and perhaps hope. Here and in the other succession states a portion of the old aristocracy and great land owners and military swashbucklers keep up a more or less concealed restoration movement, but on the whole the monarchic sentiment is decaying.

It dies hard because it has powerful support in Austria from sources that come into intimate contact with the people in their daily life, and from exterior quarters as well, but observers say it has lessened decidedly in the past six months.

They attribute that condition to several causes. The royalist leaders are, to say the least, hardly an enterprising or very daring lot, and also they are sensible enough to realize that even an anointed Hapsburg must have a treasury to successfully run a government and could present a sorry spectacle with bankrupt Austria and an estranged entente. Then the assiduous propaganda and teachings of the socialist and other liberal elements have begun to take effect on the great body of the peasantry, always considered the backbone of the royalist movement.

From this statement may be excepted the provinces of upper Austria, the Tyrol and Vorarlberg. According to the best information the monarchist movement still centers there and the mass of the peasant population supports it. This may be attributed to the fact that these provinces lie open not only to the direct efforts of the Carl propaganda from Switzerland, but the equally strong monarchic emanations from Bavaria.

While it has been two years of hard stalling for the republic as a whole and apparently there is a very rough road still ahead, the agrarian element has not been very badly off at any time. The farmers have made more money than they can spend and none of the many governments up to now have been able to take any very considerable part of it from them by taxes. They are enjoying luxuries for the first time in their lives because they can get their own piece for their producing and altogether the lessons of the new liberty are seeping into the vales and hills as well as into the factories and mines.

Every now and then the Vienna press gives prominence in a scary way to the alleged plots of the reactionaries, to the comings and goings and meetings of Carl and his satellites in Switzerland, of the former archduke and the prince of Parma and Bourbon, the former Empress Zita's two brothers who turn up occasionally in Vienna with little attempt at concealing their presence, of the former Austrian generalissimo, Frederick, in Bern, his cousin Eugene in Basle, of the Chamberlains Chumpecky and the Countess Rechthold, Forstner, Andriess, Prince Windischgratz and all the other worthies whose vocations and privileges departed when Carl fled.

Great prominence has just now been given a reported joint protest by the Czechoslovakian and Jugoslavian governments to the Helvetic federal council against the liberty of refuge enjoyed by the Carlism refugees in Switzerland. The Vienna government keeps a pretty good watch on the group in Switzerland and much of the prominence given their activities is said to be inspired by the foreign office for its deterrent effect.

Even the formation of a new royalist party here headed by Count Reschauer and having for its avowed object the closer co-ordination of the various restoration movements attracted very little attention.

In fact the general belief of foreign observers here is that in Austria at least the activity of the royalists has for its purpose more the holding together of their class and the protection of their common interests rather than any real belief they can put the yellow and black banner of the house of Hapsburg back on the Hofburg. Behind this, of course, lies the hope of some turn in European affairs that may give them a chance, and here lies the danger from without. Should Hungary crown a king, or rather if she can find one to crown in view of Great Britain's veto of Carl, which has rather upset the movement there, or should reaction affect a successful stroke in Bavaria, what the repercussion here would be is a matter of conjecture.

It is well known that the aim of the more ardent Hungarian monarchists is another dual kingdom and they might try a bold coup on Austria. But there is no conjecture about the cold fact that any attempt to restore the monarchy or a monarchy in this republic would mean bloodshed. Not only would the liberal elements fight but there is no concealment of the program that Czechoslovakia is to throw troops into Austria in such an event, and if she becomes engaged with Hungary the South Slavs are to come to her aid.

FRENCH PROMPTNESS EXAMPLE TO GERMANS

PARIS, March 15.—The French press has been comparing the attitude of France regarding payment of the $10,000,000,000 indemnity asked by Germany after the Franco-Prussian war in 1870 with that of the German nation now facing its bills for the world's war.

The Journal Des Debats re-publishes a letter written to that paper in February, 1872, by Hippolyte Taine, in which the famous French historian suggested that "every Frenchman surrender one-thirtieth of his revenue" in order that Germany might be paid sooner.

Taine proposed that every Frenchman, whether rich or poor, workingman or bourgeois, could make this sacrifice to his country. He declared that a workman by devoting one day's pay each month a manufacturer by surrendering the one-thirtieth part of his net income; the farmer by giving up the thirtieth bushel of oats, corn or wheat as the case might be, would prompt France to pay its then fabulous indemnity two years sooner than required and end the occupation.

The historian had figured that the amount realized from his scheme would reach $10,000,000,000 francs per year.

The Journal Des Debats commenting says: "Germany has the example of a people which on the impulse of the defeat seeks to liberate itself of its debt although that people had committed no depredations, caused no damage to the territory of its enemy."

JOHNNY WILSON
RETAINS TITLE

Middleweight Champion Gives Decision Over Mike O'Dowd in 15-Round Bout

Judges Disagreed and Referee Gave Award—Wilson Won But Two Rounds

NEW YORK, March 18.—Johnny Wilson, world's middleweight champion, retained his title in a 15-round bout with Mike O'Dowd, former champion, at Madison Square Garden here last night. At the end of the battle the judges disagreed and Referee Johnny Mackay of Brooklyn gave his decision in favor of Wilson.

First round.—Both landed light lefts on the head and then O'Dowd rushed his man to the ropes, sending right and left to the head and right hand to the body. Wilson, who began with a hand right to the foot, extended jabbed O'Dowd a couple of times and O'Dowd again forced him to the ropes, sending hard lefts and rights to the head. Wilson whipped his left to the stomach and O'Dowd sent right and left to body and head. They were sparring at the bell. Round even.

Round Two.—In the second round Wilson landed a right to the head, but each reached his opponent's body. Both missed swings to the head, but each reached his opponent's body. Round even.

Round Five.—Wilson hooked his right to the head and at close quarters sent right and left to the body. O'Dowd complained to the referee that Wilson had some foreign substance on his hair. The referee stopped between rounds and examined Wilson's head, and after smelling the hair decided that the complaint was not well founded. There was a great deal of long range sparring and then they went to a clinch without any damage being done. Wilson's round.

Round Six.—O'Dowd was short on a couple of leads and then they exchanged body blows. Wilson beat Mike off with his long right, but whenever they came to close quarters the fighting was pretty equally divided. Round even.

Round Seven.—Up to this time O'Dowd had not stepped in with his usual rushing tactics, but after sparring for a little while O'Dowd charged his right to the jaw twice without a hit. O'Dowd became more aggressive and landed both left and right to the head and jaw while Wilson countered on the body. O'Dowd sent right and left to body just before the bell. O'Dowd's round.

Round Ten.—Wilson swung left to the body and O'Dowd crossed his right to the jaw. Lively mix-up followed, both men playing for the body. Wilson hooked his right to the head and O'Dowd sent a straight right over the head. After some close work O'Dowd crossed his right to the jaw, sent his left to the body and brought his right up to the head again. O'Dowd sent another right to the head before they went to their corners. O'Dowd's round.

Round Eleven.—O'Dowd missed a swing and they went into a clinch. Then they exchanged body blows. There were a couple of rapid exchanges on head and body and then O'Dowd hooked his right to the ear. Wilson's long right jabs seemed to bother O'Dowd, but he, however, got in a couple of half-arm rights to the body. They finished the round in a clinch on the ropes. Round even.

Round Twelve.—Wilson landed two heavy lefts on the body and O'Dowd complained that one of them landed low. The referee did not heed him, and then O'Dowd rushed and had the better of a fast mix-up in which he landed a lot of body punishment. O'Dowd shot his right across to the jaw, and the bell found them fighting at close quarters. Even round.

Round Thirteen.—Both played for the body and landed. Wilson swung his left to the stomach and landed his right to the face, while O'Dowd worked in with left and right to the body. Wilson directed away, but O'Dowd landed left and right on the head, and then both missed swings. Their heads came together and blood flowed from O'Dowd's left temple as he went to his corner. Round even.

Round Fourteen.—They fought at

PROVIDENCE GOLD BUGS
PLAY HERE TONIGHT

No games were scheduled in the American Roller Polo league last night but the players will get back into the game tonight.

The Providence Gold Bugs will play Lowell at the Crescent rink and a red-hot game is expected. Lowell triumphed over the Gold Bugs last Saturday night in a bitterly fought game at Providence and the Rhode Island team is out to even the score.

Lowell and Providence have engaged in many close battles this season. Both teams play a fine passing game. On paper Providence looks stronger, but on the skating surface Lowell can always give them a stiff argument.

Frank and Quincey will be sent after Williams and Thompson, and if they succeed in their defensive strategy, the chances of the Lowell victory are good. Big Sox Lyons will undoubtedly give the Lowell defense men considerable trouble as he generally does and Morris Conley at goal is also a star goaltender.

Bill Blom, the Lowell goalie, also expects a busy night as he likes nothing better than to stop the drives of the speedy and hard-driving Williams-Thompson combination.

LOWELL BOXERS
LOST AT NASHUA

NASHUA, N. H., March 18.—Young O'Neil of Nashua won the state heavyweight championship last night from Charley Labore of Manchester, who has held the title for the last 10 years. In the main bout of the Tierney and A. A. series at the Olympia, Young O'Neil was given a decision after 19 rounds.

Louis Hamlin of Nashua knocked out Young O'Neil after the first round of the second round of the semi-final. Joe Stevens of Nashua won a decision over Al Dixon, of Dunstable, Mass., in eight rounds.

Paul Treacher of Nashua won a decision over Kid O'Connell of Lowell in the second round of a six-round preliminary.

CHARLEY WHITE SUES
BOXING COMMISSION

MILWAUKEE, Wis., March 18.—Charley White, Chicago boxer, yesterday filed suit in federal court for $20,000 against the Wisconsin boxing commission, alleging the loss of contracts through the action of the commission in suspending him. White was suspended following his fight with Sailor Pridemore at Kenosha several weeks ago for what the commission regarded as "stalling."

Miss Powers of Fletcher Street Awarded Prize in Philmy Beale Drawing Contest.

The drawing contest for a five passenger Paige automobile conducted by friends at Philmy Beale, the local boxer who broke his left wrist some three days ago, took place last evening during the dance held by the Dukes in the local hall.

When Beale appeared on the stage with his arm still in a sling, he was given a warm reception. A girl was called from the floor and asked to pick a ticket from the hat. She pulled out number 117, which bore the name and address of Miss Edith M. Powers of Fletcher Street. The announcement was greeted with prolonged applause.

WHITE SOX PLAY GIANTS

CHICAGO, March 18.—The reorganizing White Sox faced their first real competition today playing the second starling team of the New York Giants with Evers, Denton and a few veterans mixed in according to dispatches from Washington, Tex.

The Sox second squad will play the Giants tomorrow while the first team goes to Fort Worth to meet the Cincinnati Reds. In practice yesterday afternoon Johnny Mitchell hit one of McGraw's fast balls over the left field fence. Old timers here say that none of the Tigers or Reds who have trained here in past years ever accomplished that feat. White Collins is to join the team Saturday and probably will appear in the lineup.

LOWELL BOXERS

Lowell boxing club will play the Providence Gold Bugs at the Crescent rink tonight. Lowell won a decision over Providence last Saturday night in a bitterly fought game at Providence and the Rhode Island team is out to even the score.

Lowell and Providence have engaged in many close battles this season. Both teams play a fine passing game. On paper Providence looks stronger, but on the skating surface Lowell can always give them a stiff argument.

The most important and most interesting spring announcement we have ever made

NEVER in our history have we entered a new season in a condition to render a more satisfying clothes-service to men and young men than this spring season of 1921.

THE REASON: The decks are cleared of old merchandise, and we present new, fresh merchandise, at the same moment when the clothing market has become stabilize, and prices are down to where they should be.

In meeting the unsettled conditions which existed in the clothing industry during the past fall and winter, we revised our prices to even less than the downward market trend, and thus were able to reduce our stocks to a point, seldom, if ever reached, at the end of a season, by any merchant.

The Suits this spring retail from $20.00 to $55.00. We have especially good values at $30.00, $35.00 and $40.00.

Helen Gryglenc, 15, fled when four bandits entered K. Gryglenc's Chicago saloon in search of $20,000 he kept there to cash pay checks. But before she screamed and frightened the bandits, the girl copied their auto license number. That's why the four landed in jail.

CONFIRM SURRENDER OF KRONSTADT

STOCKHOLM, March 18.—Reports that the Russian naval fortress of Kronstadt, the center of the revolution against the soviet government, has been taken by the Bolsheviks appear to be confirmed in despatches from Finland. Leon Trotsky, Russian Bolshevik minister of war, directed the assault on the fortress, it is said, and hurled upwards of 60,000 men at its defenses.

Advice would seem to indicate that communists within the fortress and town of Kronstadt assisted the Bolshevik forces when the latter had broken into the outer fort of the place. The garrison, numbering approximately 15,000, is declared to have been exhausted by the constant bombardment and was poorly equipped in some important points along the defense lines. Many of the defenders, including the commander, are reported to have escaped into Finland across the ice.

Leaders Released

LONDON, March 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Russian soviet government, in confirming by wireless today the capture of Kronstadt, by Bolshevik troops, says M. Kusunin, soviet commissar of the Baltic fleet and M. Vasiliev, chairman of the Kronstadt soviet, who were arrested at the beginning of the rising, were released by the Bolsheviks.

M. Kusunin participated in the final liquidation of the rising, the wireless adds.

AMBASSADORS HAND NOTE TO GERMANS

PARIS, March 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—The Council of Ambassadors today handed a note to the German troops on the Upper Silesian frontier.

The communication, which is couched in terms similar to the warning sent to Berlin yesterday by the French government, recalls that the maintenance of order in Upper Silesia is exclusively under the control of the inter-allied council. Germany, it says, will be long from the entry of armed German forces into the plebiscite area.

A similar note was sent by the council to the Polish plebiscite delegation.

SHIP CAPTAIN HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE

BOSTON, March 18.—Charles M. Baker, captain of the shipping board steamer Luella, was arrested here today by federal authorities on a warrant issued at Philadelphia charging him with larceny of $3328 of the ship's funds. The case was continued until next week, but outside Capt. Baker said the trouble was due to the fact that a man could not be at the same time a skipper, bookkeeper and an expert in foreign exchange. His accounts were short he admitted, saying he had reported the fact himself. But it was all due to foreign exchange fluctuations, he contended. On a voyage to South American ports, Spain and Wales under charter to the International Freightage Co., he said he met a constantly changing condition of the exchange market. The crew came to him for pay at every port, and at every port exchange rates varied. The result, Capt. Baker said, was that many were overpaid because of his inability to keep track of the exchange fluctuations from day to day.

The skipper said he had not profited by the errors to the extent of a single cent, that he had already paid back $300 out of his savings and that he would work the remainder off if necessary as a deckhand or captain to clear his name.

CONSIDERS EMBARGO ON FARM COMMODITIES

WASHINGTON, March 18.—President Harding has under advisement today an appeal from western senators and representatives that he place an immediate embargo on the importation of a number of farm commodities, including wool, hides, meat and butter, represented as most keenly affected by foreign competition. Other products on the proposed embargo list are lemons, cottonseed oil and long staple cotton. Adhering to its program for rushing through at the special session of congress an anti-dumping bill with an added American valuation measure, possibly to be combined in one bill, the house ways and means committee referred to treasury department officials today a resolution requesting them to frame a rough draft for its consideration.

At the treasury department although Secretary Mellon publicly has expressed no views on the question of priority for tariff or revenue revision, officials already have begun the formulation of a tax revenue policy. A detailed survey of revenue sources and the extent to which each might be drawn upon for federal income is under way in order to have all necessary data for early submission to congressional committees should they call for it.

MINISTRY FACES SERIOUS CRISIS

Riotous Scenes at Meeting of Opposition Party Into Tokio

10,000 at Meeting—Platform Demolished—Many Fight
—Number Arrested

TOKIO, March 17.—(By the Associated Press)—Riotous scenes were enacted at a meeting of the Kensei-Kai opposition party which gathered today to discuss a letter written by Sec. Hirooka, of the Selyu-Kai party charging Viscount Kato, president of the Kensei-Kai, with accepting a bribe. The meeting was attended by ten thousand persons, and when Representative Tomozaburo Shimizu attempted to speak a dozen men rushed forward and demolished the platform. There were many fights in the crowd and the police made many arrests.

After the meeting a crowd marched toward the Diet building which was surrounded by two columns of police with hundreds of reserves in nearby streets and parks.

Having arrived in the vicinity of the Diet building the crowd was harangued by leaders who spoke from automobiles. The throng was urged to break through the police cordons and roaring cheers burst from the crowd which surged forward but police reserves were hurled up and the manifestants were forced to retire. Their leaders were arrested.

In the meantime there was greatest excitement within the Diet. The peers unanimously adopted a resolution proposed by Ren Nikasoff, declaring the discipline of the empire disintegrating, the minds of the people in a state of unrest, the nation's prestige abroad impaired and general conditions deplorable. The resolution asserted it was desirable to speedily rectify prevailing evils.

Amidst turbulent scenes the house of representatives discussed a resolution sponsored by the Kensei-Kai party censuring the government for the scandal regarding the South Manchurian railway. It was the prevailing opinion here today that the ministry is confronted with a serious crisis.

FRENCH AND KIRK STREET SEWER

Fairly rapid progress is being made on the construction of the new sewer in French and Kirk streets requested by the high school building commission some ago so that the new high school addition may be properly drained. The sewer has already been finished from French to Brookside street and two gangs are now at work completing the job. The section between Brookside and Andover streets has been opened up and some of the pipe laid, but more or less ledge has been encountered and the further up the street the work advances, the more ledge is found.

Between Bridge and Brookside street unusually rapid progress was made possible by the fact that this section had opened up some time ago and the ledge removed.

The job was started four weeks ago and is now about half done. At the Bridge street end of the sewer 18-inch pipe was laid for a distance of 313 feet and toward the Kirk street end there will be 200 feet of 12-inch pipe. When the work started only one gang was employed but now there are two under the direction of Foreman Owen Tighe and Peter Gagne. One air compressor is in operation and another will be put in service in the near future.

Unusual Claim Filed at City

Firm

Truck Was Mired in Bea-

Ask $60 Compensation for Loss of Time of Men and
Machine

One of the most unusual claims which has been filed in the office of the city clerk for some time has just been put on record there and will come up for action by the municipal council at an early date. In a nutshell, the petitioners seek compensation of $60 from the city because they were forced to stay in their automobile truck over night as a result of being mired in Beacon street at a point near the reservoir.

The claim is filed in behalf of the Empire Trucking company of Boston in which Morris Rothstein and Israel Rosenberg are co-partners. The accident upon which the claim is based occurred March 3 when the truck was passing through Beacon street and at a point near the reservoir sunk into the mud. The petitioners claim that the earth was soft in this particular place and gave way to the pressure of the machine. In the truck at the time were one of the members of the firm together with two workmen.

By reason of the accident, the petitioners claim, the three men were compelled to stay all night until finally they were extricated on the following day by employees of the street department as a result of an appeal to the mayor.

In an early stage of their predicament, the petitioners say, they asked the assistance of Ganley & Matthews, expressmen of this city, and although this firm was unable to help them, it sent a bill of $12, according to the claim. In addition to this expense, the two workmen who were on the truck demanded payment for their time spent in the machine during the night and for the following day on which they were unable to work. Their claim totals $36.

Another item of expense, the petitioners state, is $5, the cost of breakfast and supper for three men, and for the loss of the use of the truck during the time it was in the mud, the petitioners charge $25. Their total claim amounts to $60 and they ask the city council to set a date for a hearing on the matter. They are represented by counsel.

Patriotic Demonstration
Since Close of War

NEW YORK, March 18.—Five hundred policemen have been detailed to handle the 30,000 or more persons expected to turn out tonight for the American Legion's all-American meeting in Madison Square Garden, which has a seating capacity of 13,000.

Applications were received for more than 100,000 tickets, and 30,000 have been issued by the Legion. First arrivals will get the seats and the police will form a cordon around the Garden, and will permit only those with tickets to pass. Once the auditorium is filled all comers will be directed to numerous open-air meetings.

The meeting was arranged as a protest against the recent "horror on the Rhine" meeting, held in the same hall. Legion officials declare tonight's gathering will express disapproval of all hypocritical propaganda. They hope to make the greatest patriotic demonstration since the close of the war.

Pershing Principal Speaker

General Pershing will be principal speaker. F. W. Galbreath, national commander of the American Legion, will preside. Among those invited to sit at the speaker's table are Major-General Robert Lee Bullard, Rear Admiral Harry McL. Huse, William Howard Taft, George W. Wickersham, James W. Gerard, Henry L. Stimson, Cornelius Vanderbilt, Alton B. Parker, Miss Anne Morgan, Charles Chapman Catt and leaders of various patriotic societies.

Several hundred disabled veterans from nearby hospitals will be among the guests of honor.

PRES. HARDING PLANS TO EXERCISE CAUTION

WASHINGTON, March 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—Allied occupation of additional German territory is understood to have presented to President Harding a new problem arising from a relation of these changed conditions to previous plans for early declaration by congress of the ending of the state of war between the United States and Germany.

Some congressional leaders who all along have been for a peace resolution still think that solution should be applied as soon as possible. Other leaders, however, who are close to the president, fear that it would embarrass the nations with which the United States was associated in the war and should be deferred until the situation in Germany which caused the occupation has clarified itself.

President Harding is represented as having approached his study of the question with the view that the United States must exercise caution in whatever steps it determines to take in order that there shall be no complications of the already difficult situation faced by the allies.

In line with this viewpoint attention has been called to the fact that American troops are in Germany as a war measure and not under any treaty provision. Termination of the war, it is argued, would automatically require withdrawal and the present administration, through Secretary Weeks, has stated that this is not now under contemplation.

It has been contended both abroad and by those in Washington opposed to early action terminating the state of war that withdrawal of the troops at this time would lend encouragement to Germany in resisting demands of the allies as to reparations payment.

President Harding's position may not be revealed until his message is delivered to congress at the opening of the special session on April 11. Before the new dispute with Germany arose it had been expected that an important place in that communication would be given to urging adoption of the resolution to end the war state. Owing to the changed conditions, however, some congressional leaders are doubtful as to what the president may then have to say on this point.

WORKERS MUST BE AMERICANS

U. S. Cartridge Company is Dropping All Aliens From
Payrolls

Number of Employees to Lose
Night

Within a short time the employees of the United States Cartridge company shops will be 100 per cent. Americans. Not a single man who is not a citizen of the United States will find work in the plant. The motto of the establishment will be "the jobs belong to the men of the U.S.A."

The work of dropping the aliens from the payrolls has been going on for some time. They have been slowly weeded out, and have lost their places so gradually that there has been no excitement aroused and the discharged men have not been subjected to the hardship that might have resulted if a large number of them had been dropped at one time.

A number of employees are to be dropped from the payrolls tomorrow night. The exact number is unknown, but it will probably not reach 100, it is believed. With this reduction in forces it is believed that few aliens will be left in the plant.

For some time past employees have been scurrying about to secure evidence of their being born in this country or of their naturalization. In the future it is expected that every person who may apply for work will be compelled to prove that he is an American before his application will be given consideration.

The weeding out of aliens by the Cartridge company is part of a movement that is country wide. It was announced some months ago that large concerns, during the period of curtailment at least, would employ only citizens.

There are at present laws in some states that forbid the employment by any industrial or commercial establishment of any persons who cannot intelligently read and write the English language.

Spring Opening At The Merrimack

The Store That Led All Others in the Recent and Distant
Past Still in Front

It is only natural to learn that the Merrimack Clothing Co., which led the procession in the downward revision of prices in men's, women's and boys' wearables during the past year or two, and also directed repeated and successful attacks on the high cost of living for the people of Lowell and vicinity by the inauguration of special sales and markdowns, once again leads all competitors in the annual showing of spring goods for the Easter season.

The live-wire policy of being a step or two ahead of all others, is once again reflected in the display of brand new lines in the men's, women's and boys' departments. The recent $20,000 Under Cost Sale, practically cleaned out these departments so that Manager Mahoney was obliged to replenish very materially, and of course, did so with the very newest and latest creations from the biggest and best manufacturers in the country.

In the men's department, some of the snailiest and most serviceable suits, pencil stripes, checks and solid colors are to be found. They are the kind which make them look after you. In the boys' department is the most complete line of suits to be found in the city, while the women's department has an array of dressy suits and coats of excellent quality, smart and clean-cut in tailoring and carrying the Merrimack guarantee for service and satisfaction. They are the famous Wolter make. Enough said.

See our window display and get a definite idea of what your Easter selections will be. Then ask our prices. We are open tonight until 9 o'clock. Adv.

DOESN'T BORROW CASH AT HOME

Large Sum of City's Interest Money is Sent Out of Town

Home Institutions Once
Cared for All of Municipality's Financial Needs

The city of Lowell is to spend in interest charges on loans this year $375,300. This is the largest sum in the history of the city. Practically all of this money, it is believed, goes to persons outside the city. Only a comparatively small amount of the municipality's bonds are held by local banking institutions and citizens. The question has been asked many times by persons interested, "Why do not Lowell people and banking institutions buy the city's bonds and keep the large sum paid out in interest at home?"

Not so very long ago the financial needs of the city were all cared for by home banks. The finances of Lowell were confined to dealings with Lowell institutions.

Not longer ago than 1906 the Lowell Institution for Savings, for example, held for investment purposes $2,000,000 of the bonds of the city. According to the official report for 1919, the latest issued, the institution held in that year only $13,650 of the city's obligations.

Only Small Amounts

Other institutions hold equally small, or smaller, amounts.

Some of the loans that have been offered, such as that of $20,000 for school house purposes, authorized this week, it is said, should prove peculiarly attractive to the local institutions.

It has been stated by some persons familiar with the banking business that one of the reasons why Lowell bonds are not bid upon or owned by Lowell people has been that the city is tied up to a Boston banking institution in such a way that a monopoly of the business has been given to outside parties.

Statement on Bonds

Each one of the city's bonds bears on its face the statement that it is payable, principal and interest, at the Boston establishment. It is stated, though, that the bonds can be redeemed or the interest collected over the counter of the city treasurer.

It is claimed that the city is further kept in alliance with this institution by an ordinance of the city council which requires that all loans of the city shall receive its certification.

This certification is printed on the back of each bond and states in effect that the bank, through its firm of attorneys, has examined into the legality of the issue of the bond and certifies that it has been issued in accordance with law.

A number of city officials have maintained that this certificate was a guarantee to the purchaser that the bond would be paid. Some have asserted that it bound the bank to the payment of the loan if the city should default. It has been claimed that buyers would not take the bonds unless they carried their certification as a guarantee that they would get their money back.

CREDIT is all that is necessary to keep the Ball Rolling. It is credit, not actual money as such, that carries the Big Money along. His Credit is based upon his supposed worth, established by his known CHARACTER and Reputation. Character and Reputation are the Big Words. So too with the man of small means and less known. He comes to a Bank for Help. He may be unknown to the Bank. But he shows a Savings Account and thereby shows his Character, his habits of Living; his habit of Thrift. He exhibits his creditworthiness for Character. The Bank sizes up the man as one worthy of help.

That's why a Savings Depositor has a stronger and a safer future than the man who never enters a Bank. CAN YOU FRIEND, PRODUCE SUCH PROOF? Can you put the cards on the table and show that you are a CHARACTER? If not, stop in and take the First Step toward starting the Ball Rolling at

CLARA HAMON IS ACQUITTED

Charge After 40 Minutes'
Deliberation

Only One Ballot Taken,
a Secret One, Says 73-
Year-Old Foreman

ARDMORE, Okla., March 18.—Clara Smith Hamon, late yesterday was acquitted of a charge of having murdered Jake I. Hamon, republican national committeeman from Oklahoma, and millionaire railroad and oil promoter.

The jury was given the case at 4:30 p. m., and returned to the courtroom 40 minutes later. H. F. C. Laughlin, aged 73 years, the foreman, said only one ballot was taken, a secret one, confirming the rising vote.

Clara Hamon obtained the information fully seven minutes before the verdict was rendered in open court and early today was surrounded by her family, half smiling, half afraid to believe the odds of assurance that were bent toward her.

When Judge Thomas W. Champlin mounted the bench and received an affirmative response to his question: "Gentlemen, have you reached a verdict?" her eyes followed the motion of the bailiff as he received the verdict.

SHOT ON HIS WAY HOME

Buffalo Superintendent Dies
By Robber

BUFFALO, N. Y., March 18.—Luther P. Graves, assistant plant superintendent of the Linden Products Co., died today from a bullet wound inflicted by a robber. The shooting occurred shortly after midnight. Mr. Graves had taken his automobile to a garage and was making a short cut across lots to his home in North street, when two shots were fired. One bullet struck Mr. Graves in the abdomen.

The police theory is that Mr. Graves stumbled upon thieves who were trying to gain entrance to one of the two houses between which he was passing to reach his home.

DENY 200 STUDENTS POISONED BY FOOD

MADISON, Wis., March 18.—Fifteen women students at the University of Wisconsin, who became ill Tuesday night, supposedly of ptomaine poisoning, have returned to their classes. It was announced today. Reports that 200 students had been poisoned by food served at dormitories were declared erroneous by Robert van Valen, head of the department of clinical medicine at the university.

After an analysis of food served at one of the dormitories it was announced by the chemistry department that there was nothing to indicate that the food was tainted.

"These fundamentals, upon which the national agreements are based," he said, "consist only of those elementary principles and safeguards which enlightened public opinion has sanctioned and officially declared necessary to the well-being of the men and women employed not only in the transportation industry—but in all basic industries."

PLAYGROUND TEACHERS

Civil Service Commission Re-
Mental Examination

More or less dissatisfaction has been aroused locally by the action of the civil service commission in requesting the Lowell young men and women who recently took a mental examination for the position of playground teachers on the local commons next summer to take a physical examination in Boston tomorrow.

Up to the present time, it has never been necessary for applicants for positions on the local playgrounds to take a civil service examination, but this year the civil service authorities have seen fit to make such examination a prerequisite to service. The salaries attached to the positions are more or less nominal and, of course, the length of service is but a few months per year.

The young men and women who took the trouble to take a trip to Boston to take the mental examination feel it an added imposition that they should be forced to make a second trip at short notice merely to take a physical examination.

Supt. John W. Kernan of the local park department feels that there is no necessity for the physical examination any more than for teachers in the public schools. He was opposed to the idea in the first place of an examination of any kind because of the inconvenience caused applicants by having to go to Boston. Previously, the park commission judged the qualifications of the applicant and made their appointments accordingly.

Wholesale Thefts of Milk

Charged

BOSTON, March 18.—A scheme by which milk in large quantities was stolen from D. Whiting & Sons Co., wholesale distributors of this city, through collusion between drivers and checkers was indicted today when 30 employees were arrested on secret indictments charging conspiracy to steal. The thefts extending over several years are said to amount between $50,000 and $100,000. Drivers returning unsold milk are alleged to have been credited with twice the quantity. All the men arraigned pleaded not guilty and most of them furnished bail of $500.

EXCHANGE SHOT FOR 3 HOURS

Fire on American Immigration Officers

U. S. Troops Called Out and Firing Continued Until
Early This Morning

EL PASO, Texas, March 18.—United States soldiers and immigration officers early today were patrolling the Mexican border near here where from 10 o'clock last night until 1 a. m. they had exchanged shots with a party believed to be Mexican smugglers in which three Americans were wounded.

The Mexicans opened fire on three American immigration officers who discovered them fording the Rio Grande, which is about 50 yards wide at that point. The return fire of the immigration officers apparently wounded one of the three Mexicans wading the river and was immediately answered by riflemen concealed in bushes on the Mexican side.

Five more inspectors and 100 soldiers of the 48th Infantry from El Paso responded to a call for assistance and for more than an hour the firing continued briskly the Americans firing at the Mexicans. The Mexicans fired an occasional scream of pain from the Mexican side indicated that the American fire was not without results.

At 1 a. m. the Mexican fire died down and a dim light was visible moving about on the Mexican side.

C. A. Perkins, inspector in charge of the immigration men, said he believed the Mexicans were attempting to smuggle over liquor or drugs.

The three Americans wounded were: Private M. J. Keller, Co. D, 48th Infantry, shot in left arm and scalp wound; Private Petroski, shot through the hip, believed serious; Joseph Thomas, immigration inspector, scalp wound.

Albany, N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y., March 18.—An explosion that partly wrecked a street car manned by strike breakers in Broadway last night was caused by several railroad torpedoes tied together on the track, the police said today.

The detonation blew the glass from windows and doors of some houses in the vicinity. A state trooper suffered bruises when thrown against the curbing and an elderly invalid, lying in bed at his home, was cut in the head by flying glass. Three arrests were made.

The car was returning to the North Albany barns empty after having conveyed a detail of strike breakers to a hotel.

HOPES TO RE-INDICT WHITE SOX PLAYERS

CHICAGO, March 18.—Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, today assigned a staff of attorneys to preparing the baseball game throwing cases for re-submission to a grand jury with a view of re-indicting the seven players whose cases were dismissed yesterday.

Mr. Crowe said he hoped to go before the grand jury today and seek the indictment, but that if his assistants were unable to complete their work today he would take action as quickly as possible.

Less than two weeks remain in which the men could be re-indicted, the statute of limitations requiring action within 18 months after the act is alleged to have been committed.

HOW U. S. NAVY PLANS TO MASS IN PACIFIC

This map shows the United States' only a few fighting ships in the Atlantic naval bases and stations of the Pacific. It is reported that Uncle Sam and John Bull have reached an understanding by which the British will move the great bulk of the United States navy into the Pacific, leaving the United States navy the Pacific. Below the U.

SS. New Mexico, flagship of the Atlantic fleet, and Admiral Henry H. Wilson, who is slated to be new commander of the greatly enlarged Pacific fleet.

Plans under consideration call for making Oahu, where the Pearl harbor base is located, the "Gibraltar of the Pacific." Guam would become a great submarine base. Coaling stations and bases including the Philippines, Midway and Wake Islands, Samoa and the west coast points shown on the map would be strengthened and enlarged.

GREAT TENNIS MATCH

Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Morris Hold Place in Competition for Title

BOSTON, March 18.—Annals of women's tennis championship play contain few parallels to the match in which Mrs. Franklin I. Mallory and Mrs. L. G. Morris of New York held their place in the competition for the National Indoor doubles title today. Opposed by Mrs. T. H. Cabot and Miss Edith Sigourney of this city, Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Morris had been beaten back until only a single point remained to eliminate them. They had won the first set 6-4 and lost the second set, 3-6, and the local players had won the first five games of the third set and stood 40-30 on the sixth. Mrs. Mallory waved her partner back and standing almost on the base line, a shot from Miss Sigourney that might have counted against them was turned into a deep placement on the opponents' court. Shot after shot afterwards was smashed back so hard, so deep, or so short that their opponents were at a loss for returns. The sixth game was won by the New Yorkers and the six games after that also while the Boston players always within a single game of winning were held off until Mrs. Mallory and Mrs. Morris could drive home the points that gave them victory, 7-5. The match was in the fourth round of the doubles tournament.

Mrs. B. E. Cole, 24, of Andover, defeated Mrs. W. H. Trumbull of Weston in a semi-final of the singles championship, 6-0, 6-1, and paired with Mrs. P. H. Godfrey of Brookline won a 6-3, 7-5 victory over Misses Harriet Kunhardt and Margaret Cook of Brookline in the second round of doubles. Mrs. C. W. Wigham and Miss Marion Zinderstein of Boston defeated Mrs. N. W. Niles and Mrs. S. M. Felton, another local team, in the third round, 6-1, 6-3, in which Mrs. Cabot and Miss Sigourney earlier in the day had eliminated Misses Martha Bayard and Ceres Baker of New York 6-2, 6-0.

EX-RAY OF THE EARTH'S ATMOSPHERE

SAN FRANCISCO, March 18.—The Carnegie Institution of Washington has just completed what might be termed an x-ray of the earth's atmosphere, and has forwarded from here all data in regard to the experiment, which was made through the use of the non-magnetic ship Carnegie, which arrived here recently.

The x-ray was in the form of observations of compass and other magnetic variations on all of the earth's oceans, these variations being traced in the atmosphere by two specially designed instruments called a deflector and magnetometer. These tracings later will be shown on a chart, which might be likened to the x-ray plate; this chart will be made available to every navy and merchant marine on earth as a guide to navigation, as nearly exact as it is humanly possible to make such a guide.

So intensively and penetratingly did the instruments work, aided by the utter absence of magnetic attraction by anything else on the vessel, that certain degrees of longitude in the Indian ocean were found recently to be radically different from the best charts and projections available up to that time. In some instances these differences amounted to several minutes.

There is a constant play of these variations over the magnetic fields, and the cause of this play or change, although exhaustively theorized upon, never has been exactly explained, the Carnegie scientists said. These magnetic changes make the utilization of the non-magnetic ship and its instruments and the preparation of new charts constantly necessary. For instance a mariner using a magnetic chart prepared by the institution ten years ago could not steer as accurately as if he consulted a chart prepared but a year ago.

The magnetic ship made an absolute myth out of the general belief that the compass always points directly north. It added convincing proof to the

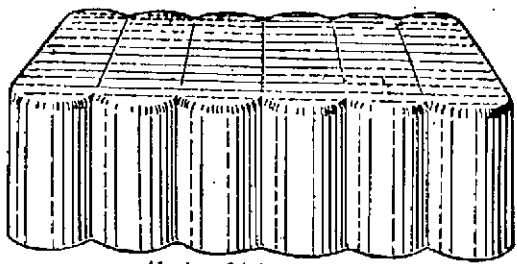

scientific theory that there are only two longitudinal lines, one of them extremely irregular, where such a thing occurs. Whenever a ship crosses one of these lines the compass will get the direct polar influence. Everywhere else it will point east of north or west of north.

In the taking of these figurative x-rays and the compilation of its data, sometimes interestingly geographical as well as magnetic, the Carnegie has traveled more than 300,000 miles since she was launched June 12, 1900. She is the only vessel credited with having circumnavigated the globe in the sub-Antarctic regions. In this voyage, entirely within the confines of the Great Southern Ocean, which has come to be the scientific name for the Antarctic, she stopped but once, that being at the island of Georgia, a whaling station in the South Pacific.

On the present voyage, which began in October, 1919, she touched at French West Africa, Buenos Aires, the island of St. Helena, where Napoleon was exiled, Ceylon, Ceylon, Australia, New Zealand, Papeete, the Fanning Islands and San Francisco. She will go from here to Samoa and the Panama Canal and then home to Washington.

The Carnegie was compelled to use her auxiliary gas engine a number of times to take her out of equatorial calm belts and to help drive her through storm tossed seas when the sails were in danger of blowing away. This engine contains the only magnetic influence on board, but it is so far away from the recording instruments that it has absolutely no effect on them.

The Carnegie carries a complement of 23 persons. Captain J. P. Ault of Washington has full charge of both the navigation of the vessel and the recording of the magnetic data. He is assisted by a second in command, Lieutenant H. F. Johnston of the British navy who resides in Toronto. Andrew Thompson, Toronto; Robert M. Nills, Washington, and H. R. Grumm, Lincoln, Neb., act as observers. The Carnegie is not a government enterprise but is solely under the direction of the departments of terrestrial magnetism of the Carnegie Institution.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

(By Theatres' Own Press Agents)

OPERA HOUSE

The gripping, absorbing story of Alaska, told in regular Rex Beach fashion, called "The Barrier," which is being given this week by the Lowell Players at the Opera House, is attracting capacity audiences at all performances. The production compares favorably with the best given by any stock company for many seasons past, and richly deserves the favorable comment being showered on the engaging cast and director. Don't miss the superb offering.

The offering for the coming week will be Mrs. Henry Wood's great emotional drama, "East Lynne," in which Miss Fields will appear in a dual role, and the rest of the company in parts that especially fit their accomplishments. Order your tickets early.

THE STRAND

William Farnum is always pleasing and fascinating, but in "The Scuttlers" he has a role that is especially strong and entertaining. It is a story of the sea, with all the fascination that a clever story of this sort carries. "Kinds of Love" is the other feature and this also is most satisfying. It gives "Breezy" Eason, the child wonder of the screen, ample opportunity to display unusual ability. The comedy and weekly, and the piano recital by Miss Morgan are most commendable.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Tom Moore plays one of the best roles of his career as "Dan Canavan," in "Hold Your Horses," his latest photoplay success now showing at the Merrimack Square theatre. The story is by Rupert Hughes and tells of the rise of Canavan from a street cleaner in New York to the position of political boss of the city. How he gained enough self-confidence to bring him this success and to win him the hand of the most wealthy society girl of the city is entertainingly told in the photoplay. The other big feature for the second half of the week, "The Great Lover," tells of a grand opera star who has won the hearts of scores of women but who finds himself foiled when he meets the one woman he really cares for. The International News, a comedy and a Burton Holmes travel picture round out the bill.

RIALTO THEATRE

The moving pictures taken at the Rialto theatre last week form the feature of a stellar attraction for the week end. These show the local amateurs at their very best and the presentation forms the nucleus of a strong bill. The other attractions are Josephine Earle in "The Edge of Youth," Neal Hart in a northwestern melodrama, "The Sky Fire," a Mermaid comedy, "April Fool," Episode four of "Lighting Fate" and the Fox news. Don't fail to see this week end attraction, for it combines drama and comedy and is quite entertaining.

B. F. KEITH'S THEATRE

Get a smaller of eccentric dancing and some unusual vaudeville when you visit the B. F. Keith theatre this week, and see Miller and Mack in their funny act. You will also get a touch of novelty in "Living on Air," which flowed Anderson and Dean Graves present, and in the "Portraits Musical," Betty Dean and Co. do some interesting work. Among the other acts of the week Arthur Whitehead, the Irish chatterbox, stands out prominently, and McLaughlin and Evans in their bowery dancing are lively. Emile and John Nathan contribute some specially good equilibristic and Dallas Walker is a rope spinner and dancer.

BURKES HOLD ANNUAL CONCERT AND DANCE

More than 1000 people attended the annual dance of the Burke Temperance Institute, which was held in Associate hall last evening. The early part of the evening was taken up with concert numbers by the orchestra and later general dancing was started and continued till a seasonable hour. The success of the evening was due to the efforts of the following officers: John Maguire, general manager; Thomas Mooney, floor director; James Redmond, assistant; John Winn, treasurer; William Mahoney and John Doyle entertained the large audience with vocal selections.

PLANNING TO TIGHTEN UP VOLSTEAD LAW

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Reports that prohibition leaders in congress are planning to tighten up the Volstead law have opened a regular scramble for assignments on the house judiciary committee, which will frame the amended law, if one is to be introduced at the extra session next month.

The committee heretofore has consisted of 13 republicans and eight democrats. The new lineup, because of the increased republican majority, will be 15 republicans and 6 democrats. There are seven places to be filled, most of them on the democratic side. If all should be given to anti-prohibitionists the dry forces still would be in supreme command.

Friends of Chairman Volstead declared today that the movement recently started in some quarters to oust him from leadership had about petered out. The naming of committee chairman is in the hands of the committee on committees, which is expected to hold to its old rule by which top place goes to seniority rank. Several members of the judiciary committee who will not be in the next congress, voted against the Volstead law but they did not seek re-election. Of the republican members who supported the enforcement act one died and the other was defeated for re-nomination in the primary.

In checking over the names of applicants for judiciary assignments leaders said it was shown that many hailed from the big cities.

Y. M. C. I. MINSTRELS

Annual "Irish Night" Concert in Institute Hall

Y.M.C.I. minstrels entertained a large number of members of the organization and their friends in the annual "Irish Night" concert given last evening in the institute hall in Stackpole street. A mixed chorus of good solo, a series of excellent solos and a comedy sketch, "The New Judge," were a few of the evening's features. Following the entertainment general dancing was enjoyed. Charles J. Keyes was stage director of the entertainment, and John McCaffrey, general director. Miss Vera Curran added much to the success of the affair by her work as accompanist.

President Thomas E. Clark was general manager of the evening and Edward D. Higgins, assistant general manager. The committee in charge was headed by George Callahan as chairman, Gerald Murphy secretary and Michael Keefe treasurer.

The evening's program in detail was as follows: Opening chorus, entire company. A Little Bunch of Shamrocks. My Name is Kelly. Frank O'Neill. I'll Take You Back Again, Kathleen Rita Carolan. HOLD IRISH CONCERT
The Women's Industrial club of the Massachusetts cotton mills held a most interesting Irish concert yesterday during the noon hour in the club room. The Misses Jennings and Cassidy, pupils of Mrs. Ella Reilly Toye, of North Billerica, entertained with piano solo, while Mrs. James A. Murphy sang, accompanied by Mrs. Caroline White McNally at the piano. Irish reels and jigs were executed by Mesdames Regan and Fitzgerald, both of whom are employees of the mill. The Misses May McBride, Kate Gilligan and Ann McDonough also gave some impromptu Irish dancing. More than two hundred employees of the mill were present, while Agent Mitchell and Mr. Ramsey were also in attendance. Lunch was served by Mrs. Dora White, Mrs. Nellie Johnson, Mrs. Oona Holton, and Mesdames Ellis, Taylor and Gallagher.

AT HIGHLAND CLUB
A charming informal dance was staged at the Highland club last evening by the Pupils. The hall was lavishly decorated with green and white constituting the color scheme. A great variety of favors were distributed, including noise-makers of all descriptions. Music was by "Skip" Sweeney's orchestra of "jazz" contributors. The following were in charge of arrangements for the affair: General manager, Francis Durant; assistant general manager, Raymond Adams; floor director, James Jones; assistant floor director, Arthur H. R. Cronshaw; treasurer, Laurel Grafton.

AMERICA LEADS IN FIXING WAGES AND PRICES

LONDON, March 18.—America is dealing with the problem of reconstruction and the restoration of trade more energetically and more successfully than is the case in England, Sir Algernon Plith, former president of the Association of British chambers of commerce, declares in a Times interview. Sir Algernon has returned recently from his 51st visit to the United States.

Among factors cited as to American advantage in the situation, the British business man states, were a more rapid reduction of values than in England and co-operation of labor in reducing the costs of production. Mill workers in the United States, he said, are accepting wage reductions of as much as 33 1-3 per cent. in order to enable manufacturers to turn out goods at prices which the public would pay. He said if this movement went much further it would mean that the United States would soon be in a strong position in the matter of exporting goods and would be able to secure business that would otherwise come to Great Britain. American hours of work were about the same as those in England, he stated, but the men worked much harder while they were in the mills. Sir Algernon expressed an opinion that trade would improve in America toward April, based on the fact that bottom prices were being reached, promising restored confidence and increased buying. He urged open and frank dealing with Americans and co-operation between the two nations. He said he did not attach much importance to the question of tariffs because of the creditor position of the United States.

STATE MOTOR CORPS

New Jersey May Have Motorcycle Police Force

TRENTON, N. J., March 18.—A state motorcycle police force for patrolling the main highways has been recommended to Gov. Edwards by a committee appointed by him to find ways to combat the lawlessness prevailing through the state. The members chose the motorcycle as the most efficient and economical vehicle for the purpose. The committee advises that a state intelligence department be organized for the securing of evidence and detection of crime. This department would include a force of motorcycle patrolmen. They would patrol the highways, at the same time co-operating with county and municipal forces. Signal stations at important points along the country highways are also suggested so that every highway patrolman may be in close touch with the central office. By placing these officers and the intelligence force under the supervision of the state highway or motor vehicle department, the committee believes control over country driving would be centralized and more effective than otherwise.

TAKE A WALK

Before you owned a machine, you used to walk to the car line in the morning and back home in the evening. You used to exercise your leg and body muscles on many a short errand. Now you use the bus and, if you work the car too much on such trips, your legs will become weak and your muscles flabby. You can't keep yourself active and in good health by sitting behind the steering wheel whenever you're outside. Take a walk whenever you can, to maintain your vigor.

400,000 WAR VETERANS OUT OF WORK IN U. S.

NEW YORK, March 18.—There were 400,000 veterans of the world war out of work in the United States on March 1 last, according to an estimate received by the American Legion. This is a reduction of about 200,000 from the "peak" of more than 600,000 jobless ex-service men in the country shortly after January 1 last and the Legion reports state there is promise of further improvement.

The survey of the national situation on which these figures are based was made by the American Legion Weekly, official publication of the Legion which states that the unemployment situation as affecting the veterans "appears to have taken a turn for the better."

A chain of employment agencies operated by the Legion in every state has done much to relieve the situation, say the Legion officials. The Legion has been instrumental in obtaining work for veterans, in discouraging the migration of unemployed men toward the great industrial centers and has encouraged a movement from cities to the farms. It has demanded that workers who left their positions to go to war should enjoy seniority rights on a par with those of military age who stayed at home.

Ex-service men have suffered more in proportion to their numbers than other workers, according to the Legion's survey, because of the operation of seniority rules and efficiency standards. Nearly a year is required for the returned veteran to get back to his old stride in industry, according to the testimony of large employers of labor. Another thing that has handicapped the ex-soldier is his restlessness and nomadic tendencies, both products of the strain and circumstances of war service.

Reopening of factories and mills in the textile regions of New England, and in the mining and industrial centers of Pennsylvania leads observers to those parts to believe the worst is past, according to the Legion's survey.

FACE DISFIGURED WITH PIMPLES

Large, Red and Very Sore. Cuticura Healed.

"My face broke out with large, red pimples that were very sore. After awhile the pimples got scaly and itched so badly that I had to scratch them. I couldn't sleep at night and my face was awfully disfigured. I sent for a sample of Cuticura Soap and Ointment and after using them the pimples started to disappear. I bought more, and after using one cake of Soap and one box of Ointment I was healed." (Signed) Robert Clark, Jr., R. F. D. 2, Branford, Conn., Sept. 18, 1920.

very. The automobile centers of Detroit, Cleveland and Indianapolis report a slight improvement of conditions. In Chicago conditions are stationary, it is said.

Throughout the agricultural middle west a general movement from the cities and towns to the farms is reported. The average ex-soldier had little taste for agriculture when he came back from the war. It was hard to keep them down on the farm after they had "seen Parer." They chose to work in the small factories or stores in the neighboring country seat, where, during 1919, jobs were plenty and wages high. When those jobs began to go there was at first an exodus toward the larger cities. The Legion strove to discourage this. That movement has about spent itself and farmers throughout the west now report little difficulty in getting help, and except in the larger cities there are few able-bodied ex-service men reported out of work in the middle west.

The south reports improvement. Dixie has been burdened with a larger quota of winter flunkies than usual this year, according to reports. Some are now finding farm work in the south, others are drifting north, largely to settle on farms. The Pacific coast, a land where there are the three great seasonal occupations of fishing, lumbering and fruit raising, has been able to decrease the number of jobless veterans by half in two months, according to advices from there. In Washington state there were 7000 unemployed veterans on January 1 and 2000 on February 1.

REDUCE THOSE DANGEROUS SWOLLEN VEINS

Physicians are prescribing and hospitals are using a new and harmless, yet very powerful germicide that not only causes enlargement of varicose veins and bursitis to become normal, but also reduces fever, enlarged glands and weas. Ask any first class druggist for an original two-ounce bottle of Moone's Emerald Oil (full strength) and refuse to accept anything in its place. It is such a highly concentrated preparation that two ounces lasts a long time and furthermore, if this wonderful discovery does not produce the results anticipated, you can have the price refunded. It is not wise for anyone to allow swollen veins to keep on enlarging. Often they burst and cause weeks of pain, suffering and loss of employment. Start the Emerald Oil treatment as directions advise and improvement will begin at once. Generous sample on receipt of 15 cents, silver or stamps. International Laboratories, Rochester, N. Y. Your druggist or Fred Howard can supply you—Adv.

BELIEVE BIG BUILDING
STRIKE NEAR END

BOSTON, March 15.—The possibility of the building trade strike in this city being terminated tomorrow, followed by the immediate resumption of building operations in Greater Boston, which have been tied up since Jan. 20, was intimated yesterday at the state house following a fruitful conference between representatives of the Building Trades Employers' Association and the Building Trades Council.

Both sides to the controversy appeared hopeful that when they meet again tomorrow with the State Board of Conciliation and Arbitration that whatever differences exist will be overcome by mutual concessions, and that a plan of agreement satisfactory to each may be drawn up.

The conference yesterday started at 10:30 and continued until evening, with Chairman Edward Fisher presiding. Only a brief recess was taken for luncheon and during this recess, sub-committees from both sides were in conference on a number of matters. Many times both sides adjourned to intermissions to discuss proposals from the other side. Not a word as to what went on was given out by the state board or by either side, this being at the suggestion of Chairman Fisher.

The representatives of the Employers' association included Pres. Parker F. Soule, Sec. John F. Walsh, Albert D. Howlett, Walter Ewert, William H. Root, James J. Scully, Robert H. Halliwell and P. W. Donahue. The Building Trades council was represented by James T. Moriarty, chairman of the strike committee; Mrs. John Carroll, Sec. E. A. Johnson, James Gould, Edward Kelley, Jeffrey Roudier and E. E. Flynn.

BIG ST. PATRICK'S DAY PARADE IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, March 15.—Turning their annual St. Patrick's day celebration into a great demonstration of loyalty for the British empire, thousands of New Yorkers joined up Fifth avenue yesterday in a parade that lasted more than three hours.

Some of the most stirring sentiments against England were carried by the women's organizations. One of their posters read: "England, Damn Your Concessions—We Want Our Country." and another described "English Civilization in the 19th Century," as "The Torch, the Bullet, the Scaffold."

Uniformed cadets from several schools in New York marched to the music of Erin's folk songs. The air was filled all afternoon with strains of "Weaving of the Green," "Kathleen Mavourneen" and "My Irish Molly." Mixed with these tunes were happier serenades played by Irish Highlanders marching in kilts and tam o' shanters.

They were watched by tens of thousands, packing the sidewalks and windows along more than 70 blocks of the avenue, and overflowing into Central park and side streets.

Rainbow Division, veterans of the 69th National Guard regiment, known as "The Fighting Irish," marching in their service uniforms and carrying rifles, held the place of honor in the long pageant. Fluttering above them were the Stars and Stripes, the regimental standard and blue silk banners with rainbow centres, while for miles to the rear the scores of Irish organizations and bands came tramping along with the green, white and gold flag of the Irish republic. This tri-color waved everywhere, rarely almost entirely the green banner with golden harp inscribed "Erin Go Bragh," so numerous in past processions on the feast day of Ireland's patron saint.

EASTER
ORDERS

Today and Saturday

I never saw more gratifying business than that which the people of Lowell are giving me today.

Understand me—I am not new—I am not a flash in the pan—I am an old timer. This is my thirteenth year in your city.

When men come into a store, make their own selection of cloth and walk up to the salesman and say, make this up for me, you have my measure on the books. I ask you, what can I do to repay the confidence?

I don't take any credit for giving you wonderful goods—I am not entitled to any credit for keeping the prices low—I don't do these things, you do them for yourself.

The way men crowd my store makes the woolens and low prices possible—their enormous business makes my organization—I am only a part of the machine.

DOCTORS, LAWYERS, BUSINESS MEN—all crowd elbows in MITCHELL THE TAILOR'S these days for styles in goods they can't seem to get in old quarters during this woolen pitch, while prosperous mechanics walk into my store and say to one of my salesmen, measure me for one of those 16 oz. Blue Serges, the same as what I had two years ago.

If I did not have such a faithful army of old customers, you could never buy the goods I sell at my prices. If you think I must have poor goods because my prices are low, you are 100 per cent. wrong and you can prove it to your own satisfaction in about two minutes. You don't have to look at the goods—Come in any day this week and see the crowds of old customers placing orders for their garments.

SPECIAL

I beg my old customers to leave their orders early, letting me take my time, if they are not in a hurry.

Easter Sunday ten days away. If you will be fair with me I shall not disappoint you. Order your Easter suit early and by doing so you give the late comers a chance.

(Signed) MITCHELL.

Special Easter Offering

Eighteen styles in worsteds, colors in browns, greys, blues and pencil stripes; 13 to 16 ounces in weight, all wool and warranted fast color—if it fades I'll make you a new garment free and you keep the old one. I bought THIRTY PIECES of these goods last week, a little off price.

GERMAN REVIVAL SEEN

BY CHAS. M. SCHWAB

NEW YORK, March 15.—Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of the Bethlehem Steel corporation, who sailed hence six weeks ago on a recuperative European trip, returned yesterday by the White Star liner Olympic, looking and feeling unusually brisk and cheerful, and ready, as he declared, to go back into harness again with all his heart. One of the first things he did after arriving at his home in Riverside Drive was to take an observational spin over the city in an automobile, which helped him to appreciate its marvels as contrasted with those of European capitals.

Although Mr. Schwab, accompanied by his friend Dr. S. A. Brown, toured only France and Italy, he devoted some time getting in touch with conditions in Germany through talks with German manufacturers and economists. "Germany will recover from the effects of the world war," he said, "much sooner perhaps than any other of the European countries involved in it. I noted that France and Italy were getting on their feet swiftly, but from the information I obtained I am confident that the world will have to look out for Germany as a possible competitor in much shorter time than is generally allotted to her."

"I believe, however, that the United States need have no fear of being outstripped by Germany industrially, and in regard to shipping I have no doubt that we will still retain the lead we have achieved and are achieving."

"Germany is a conquered country and her people are aware of it, but they are like a strong man who has fallen in business and sets his teeth determined to win back what he has lost by hard work and complete management. The secret of Germany's previous industrial success was the efficiency of her workers. They still have that efficiency and that training that is necessary to win in the world of commerce and manufactures. Business is bad, of course in Germany as in all other countries, including America, but it is on the mend."

Mr. Schwab was unwilling to talk

just yet about the subject of reparations and did not care to discuss the exchange question. He said he believed that a moderate protective tariff, enough to save the American worker from being harmed by the competition of foreign goods, might be necessary to the United States. In his audience with the pope Mr. Schwab said the holy father showed great interest in the newly elected president and national affairs.

While in Rome Mr. Schwab dined with Archbishop Hayes of this diocese, who returned from Italy the other day. Of John W. Davis, retiring ambassador to England, who was also a passenger by the Olympic, Mr. Schwab spoke in high terms, remarking that he doubted if any former American ambassador had left so many friends behind in England.

J. H. Thomas, vice-president of the International Mercantile Marine company, returning from a trip of inspection in Hamburg and other parts of Germany, confirmed the impression of Mr. Schwab that Germany was preparing to "come back" with a bang. Mr. Thomas said he was surprised at the apparent prosperity existing in Germany. "There seemed to be food aplenty," said Mr. Thomas, "and one could get anything he wanted to pay for."

"I saw no evidence of suffering on the part of any one. There were no idlers anywhere; everybody seemed to be busy and cheerful. In a trip by rail across Germany to Antwerp factory chimneys seemed to be smoking everywhere and business seemed to be going on in the most efficient manner. My observation might be called superficial, but this feeling I expected to see, war faces and plucked features, certainly were lacking."

Mr. Thomas said he found the port of Hamburg in fine condition and that the former German giantess Harbinger, recently acquired by the International Mercantile Marine for use in the White Star service, would be regarded as one of the wonders of the world. She was 35 per cent. completed and would be in service in less than 12 months.

PEDRO ZAMORA, FAMOUS MEXICAN BANDIT, DEAD

MEXICO CITY, March 15.—Pedro Zamora, for the last ten years one of the most formidable bandits operating along the western coast of Mexico, is dead, as a result of wounds received in a recent battle with federal troops near the town of Zamoctlan, state of Jalisco.

He was first a Lieutenant of Villa, after which he joined Zapata, but finally operated independently in the states of Jalisco, Michoacan and Colima. An extensive area in these states was under his control for a long time. Last August he raided the towns of Autlan and Quatlan, from which he carried off a number of captives including seven Americans and several British subjects. It was said that 12 girls carried off from Quatlan committed suicide.

Several days ago it was reported that Zamora was again leading a rebellion and federal troops were sent against him. His forces were completely routed at Zamoctlan and he received mortal wounds.

DEBS HALTS PLAN TO

ATLANTA, Ga., March 15.—Supreme Court Justice Charles E. The attorney general, William C. Clegg, announced here today.

A national campaign to secure his release will be undertaken, however, the attorney said.

WORCESTER, March 15.—An orange tie on St. Patrick's day led to the arrest of Donald Campbell, 21 years old, of 156 Prescott street, yesterday.

Campbell was placed under arrest for breach of the peace.

As a result of the bursting of a high pressure water main in Montreal yesterday, two boys were drowned, several families were rendered homeless and twenty-eight persons were taken to the hospital.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

"LITTLE GIRL, WILL YOU PLEASE HOLD MY BABY?"

"Do you still like the circus?" asked Flippety-Flap, the fairyman. Mrs. Kangaroo jumped. She hadn't noticed Nancy and Nick nor their odd companion approaching.

"Sh!" She held up a warning hand. "Not a sound. I just got Kicky to bed."

"Yes," whispered Nancy. "We saw you put him in."

"And I don't want him to know how I long for the circus. It's all I think of, really."

"But why did you leave?"

"Well," said Mama Kangaroo, soberly, "when the gnomes came along one night and unlocked the door of my cage, I had been thinking. Kicky was growing up, and no chance to learn a thing. How could he stretch his legs in a two foot cage and learn to take steps 20 feet long? How could he ever learn to stand properly on his tail? I had to bring him home, where there was room, to teach him a few things."

"Can't I persuade you to go back?" asked Flippety-Flap. "Here spring's coming and what will all the children do when there is no circus?"

"I know," nodded the kangaroo, reaching for her hanky and blowing her nose loudly. "I have to weep when I think of it. And I'll forget all the boxing I ever knew. I love to box."

A shadowy look came into Flippety-Flap's little eyes, and he looked stily down at his enormous feet.

"Would you mind boxing with me?" he asked quickly. "I can box beautifully and I just happened to bring my boxing gloves along, also an extra pair."

"Oh, I should love it," cried Mrs. Kangaroo, hastily unstrapping the little bed she carried in front of her, and in which Kicky slept. "Little girl, will you please hold my baby?"

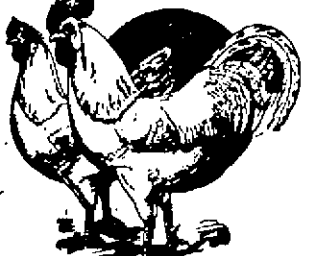

Flippety-Flap produced two pairs of boxing gloves from his magic shoes. (Copyright, 1921, The Lowell Sun)

HOW TO PRESERVE EGGS WITH WATER GLASS

By the use of Water Glass (Sodium Silicate) it is possible to preserve eggs for months. The Water Glass has no chemical action on the eggs but keeps out the air.

Use one gallon of Water Glass and nine gallons of water. One quart of Water Glass will make enough liquid for a five-gallon crock full of eggs. Place eggs in crock and pour the solution over them until they are covered.

The eggs should be absolutely fresh, not three or four days old. They should be kept in a cool place.

Review of Its Workings in Kansas From Mine Union

Officials' Point of View

TOPEKA, Kans., March 15.—A review of the workings of the Kansas industrial court law from a mine union official's point of view has been made by Alexander Howat, President of District No. 14, United Mine Workers of America. Mr. Howat says:

"The industrial court has been in existence one year. During that period it has accomplished nothing in bettering labor's condition in this state. A few wage claims involving but a very small number of men have been handled by the industrial court, a few crumbs handed out as a bait to labor, but for every penny that has been paid out to labor, hundreds of dollars have been given to the public utilities corporations in increased rates. Eight or ten cents an hour increase was given to the employees of the Joplin & Pittsburg Railway company, who were already working for a starvation wage of $3.50 or $4 per day, and the passenger rates of the company were almost doubled."

"The industrial court also added about 27 1/2 per cent to the value of the Telephone company at Topeka, and did the same at Kansas City, Kansas, and permitted their rates to be adjusted accordingly."

"The industrial court has cost the tax payers many thousands of dollars directly, and many hundreds of thousands of dollars in increased rates to public utilities that have been given by the industrial court. It has prevented no strikes and has done nothing but aggravate the labor problem and create industrial strife."

"Every honest, self-respecting working man in the state should resent a law of this character. There is no law even in the most autocratic country of Europe today that enslaves the workers in such a manner as is intended by this law."

"This law is an infringement on the sacred rights of every honest working man in the state of Kansas. This so-called industrial court law is an insult to every man who believes in the principles of liberty and justice and is a disgrace to the state of Kansas. This law is meant to enslave organized labor and to place us in the same condition that we were in years ago, before we had established the United Mine Workers. It is meant to place us at the complete mercy of the employers of labor. It is intended to destroy the usefulness and effectiveness of our organization, and in fact, is only the beginning of a movement that is finally intended to enslave the working class of America and to destroy the organized labor movement of the entire country."

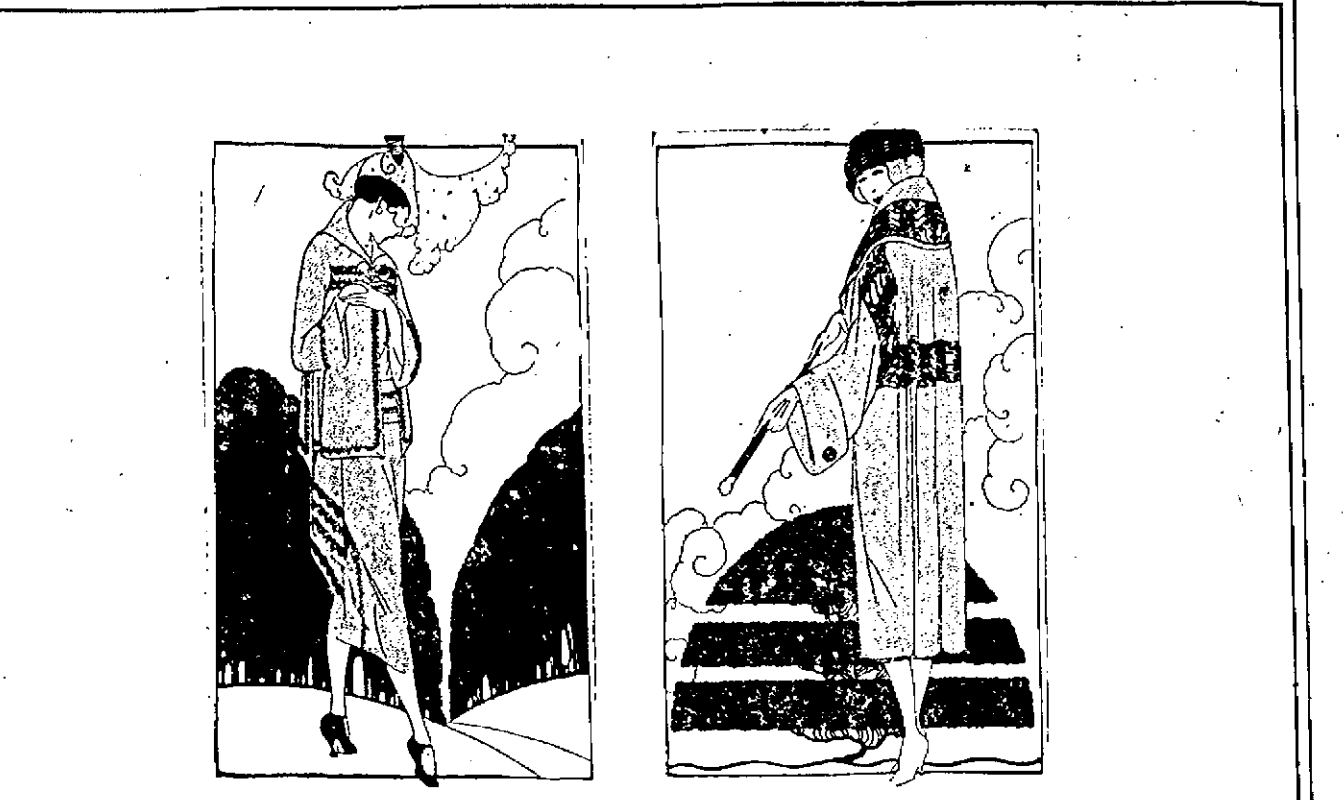

"Organized labor is not opposed to the industrial court law because of our desire to call strikes, but we know from bitter experience of the past what it means to us if we surrender the right to strike, or if that right is taken away from us. It is only because we have in the past enjoyed the right to strike that we have ever been able to compel the employers of labor to grant any concessions that have been accorded us. We know how little sympathy or consideration we may expect at the hands of the employers when we are chained in our jobs like slaves. Organized labor in Kansas has a right to expect the same degree of liberty."

and justice, that is accorded to organized workers in the other states of the nation, and we are going to continue to fight until that principle is recognized and re-established in this state. Impunctations and industrial courts shall not be permitted to interfere without policy in any way."

"The Kansas industrial court law was the outcome of the miners' strike of 1915 and was passed chiefly through the influence of Governor Henry J. Allen. It created a court of three members to hear controversies in industries and utilities; was given power to intervene on its own initiative in industrial controversies and may make orders relative to wages and hours of employment."

"The law declares it unlawful for operators to willfully limit or cease operations for the purpose of limiting production or transportation or to fix prices for the purpose of avoiding any of the provisions of the act."

"The law also declares it to be unlawful for any two or more employees in industries named to conspire to quit employment for the purpose of hindering, delaying or suspending operations. The right of any individual to quit employment at any time is recognized. The law provides that a willful violation of provisions of the act or of an order of court is a misdemeanor, punishable by a maximum fine of $1000, a maximum term of one year, or both. In the case of an officer of a corporation or the officer of a labor organization willfully violating the provisions of the act, they will be guilty of a felony, punishable by a maximum fine of $5000 or a maximum term of two years, or both."

Dr. Branch of Boston Health Department Summarily Removed by Commissioner Woodward

BOSTON, March 18.—After 27 years' service in the municipal health department, Dr. David D. Branch, $4300 a year in charge of the medical division, was summarily removed last night by Health Commissioner W. C. Woodward, "because of incapacity, incompetence, and neglect of duty."

Dr. Woodward would not talk of the case to reporters. From another source it was learned that Boston's recently reported single smallpox case figures in Dr. Branch's dismissal.

It was learned that Dr. Woodward refused to talk now of the case, as based on his belief that Dr. Branch will take his case into court, having retained Attorney Timothy F. Callahan when Dr. Woodward informed him of his dismissal.

Dr. Branch is a bachelor and makes his home at 86 Charles street. Entering the department in September, 1893, as a medical inspector, he gradually rose to the head of that squad, and in April, 1917, was made deputy commissioner.

At the time of this promotion, however, he did not qualify under civil service; so it is pointed out that he cannot now apply to Dr. Woodward for a public hearing of his case, as is the right of city employees discharged by department heads. He can, however, get an airing of his case by filing his story with City Clerk James Donovan, and he may institute court action.

REPUBLICANS STAND PAT ON TARIFF PLAN

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Republican members of the house ways and means committee stood pat yesterday on the proposition that a permanent tariff bill should be introduced at the opening of the new session of congress.

This view was expressed at a committee conference, which took up, among other things, the question of preparing and rushing through the house the same anti-dumping bill passed last session, together with an added American valuation measure. The latter may be incorporated in the same bill and the committee adopted a resolution requesting treasury department officials to frame a rough draft for its consideration. There was no criticism from the White House as to whether the president had approved the program agreed upon yesterday at a conference of the ways and means and senate finance committees.

Meanwhile there were other movements under way which would have the effect of giving interests demanding an emergency tariff. There has been much discussion of the proposal by Senator Smoot, republican, Utah, to put an embargo on wool, which was included in the Fordney measure, passed by the senate and house, and vetoed by Mr. Wilson. Congressional and administrative circles were said to be planning to put an embargo on other products now on the free list. Although they had been advised of such a movement, members of the ways and means committee declared that the question of preparing an anti-dumping tariff had been definitely abandoned.

Agreement was reached at the meeting yesterday that the anti-dumping and valuation bills should not delay consideration of a straight tariff bill for the reason that it did not fit the situation with respect to the free list. Answering questions as to whether the committee had changed front on priority of tariff or revenue revision, Chairman Fordney declared that it still was a 13-to-3 vote for tariff. The west, according to the chairman, is emphasizing tariff legislation early in the session. In advance of all allied bills. Chairman Fordney intimated that the committee, which will meet again today, might begin work on the tariff bill. A notice that the next meeting he held Monday was voted down, the view being expressed by many that there was no reason for further delay, inasmuch as hearings were long ago concluded and that the time had come to write the bill.

CENTRALVILLE CLUB HAS LADIES' NIGHT

A very successful ladies' night was conducted last night by the Centralville Social club. There were about 200 men and women in attendance and all enjoyed the program immensely. In the early part of the evening a basketball game was played between two teams composed of married and single men, and this part of the program proved very interesting. The Benedicts were headed by Hector Dupuis, while the unmarried players had as captain, Herve Lamoureux. Arthur Brunel acted as referee and at the close of the game he proclaimed the single men winners, by a score of 26 to 12. Contests in cards, pool, billiards and other games took place, a buffet luncheon was served and entertainment numbers were given. The committee in charge of the affair was as follows: Hector Dupuis, chairman; Leo Kerouac, Henri Elie, Venance Faveau and Lucien Lassier.

While the members of the club and stuffed up I would nearly choke, and had heart burn so bad I could hardly endure it. At night the gas on my stomach made me so short of breath I often had to get out of bed so I could breathe, and my sleep was so broken I always felt tired and worn out. I suffered from constipation and dizzy spells when everything seemed to turn black before me, and I could hardly stand up.

Well, I lost a lot of time from my work, for I was so weak many days I just could not stay on the job; but since I got Tanlac I'm putting in full time every day, and feel good all the time. My appetite is fine now, and everything agrees with me perfectly. In fact, I feel better than I have in years, and it's really surprising how well Tanlac has fixed me up.

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's Drug Store, under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass., Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

Germany's appeal, he says, is made for the most part on a price basis, though not as low as before the war. American goods are priced so high because of exchange rates that German goods are at least 40 per cent below them.

According to reports from the east coast, the Germans are not working as hard in Chile as they are in Argentina and Brazil. The opinion prevails also that German competition is not a great factor in the present checking up of American trade with Chile. In this connection, Mr. McQueen declares business in Chile has just passed through a crisis and is as yet hardly convalescent and the market does not show goods at present. British, French and Belgian goods, are as much favored by the present premium on dollars as are the German.

CONCESSION HELD BY BRITISH REPUDIATED

WASHINGTON, March 18.—A concession involving approximately 700 square miles of potential oil fields in Costa Rica, granted by the old Tinoco government and held by British interests, has been repudiated by the new Costa Rican government.

Advices yesterday to the state department said the Costa Rican congress on March 7 voted 24 to 10, against repudiating this act of the Tinoco government. The concession originally was obtained by Amory & Sons, an American concern, and subsequently sold to the British interests, reported to include the son of the British premier, Lloyd George.

Neither Great Britain nor the United States recognized the Tinoco government, but they have recognized the Tinoco government. Since extending recognition, Great Britain, according to advices, has undertaken to enforce a claim, bringing pressure to bear and threatening trade restrictions. It was said yesterday at the state department that the American government had taken no action with regard to the concession. The position of the United States is understood to be that it would not protest against the granting of an oil concession to British interests by Costa Rica, while it was demanding equal treatment for citizens of all countries in Mesopotamia and other former enemy possessions for which mandates have been granted.

IRISH WOMEN APPEAL TO MRS. HARDING

DUBLIN, March 18 (by the Associated Press).—Five prominent Irish women in a message transmitted by the American relief committee's delegation here, called on Mrs. Harding, wife of the president of the United States, to appeal to American women for emergency relief for Irish women and children.

The message asserts that large numbers of women have been made homeless by the destruction of houses, farms and shops and that their babies are dying in hundreds.

The signers to the appeal include Alice Sophia Green, the historian, and Lady Augusta Gregory, playwright.

AUSTRIANS TOLD TO PLOT TO RESTORE EMPEROR

VIENNA, March 18.—(By the Associated Press.)—If monarchism is to come to Austria it must, the faithful say, come from without. This is the opinion of men whose business it is to watch and weigh royalist activity.

That there is royalist activity goes without saying. Carl (formerly emperor) and his followers, the little court of sent and dem and near royalty and adventurous gentlemen of many nationalities are busy about him in Switzerland, still intrigue and plot and perhaps hope. Here and in the other succession states a portion of the old aristocracy and great land owners and military swashbucklers keep up a more or less concealed restoration movement, but on the whole the monarchist sentiment is decaying.

It does, however, have powerful support in Austria from sources that come into intimate contact with the people in their daily life, and from exterior quarters as well, but observers say it has lessened decidedly in the past six months.

They attribute that condition to several causes. The royalist leaders are, to say the least, hardly an enterprising or very daring lot and also they are sensible enough to realize that even an anointed Hapsburg must have a treasury to successfully run a government and would present a sorry spectacle with bankrupt Austria and an estranged entente. Then the assiduous propaganda and treachery of the socialist and other liberal elements have begun to take effect on the great body of the peasantry, always considered the backbone of the royalist movement.

From this statement may be excepted the provinces of upper Austria, the Tyrol and Vorarlberg. According to the best information the monarchist movement still centers there and the mass of the peasant population supports it. This may be attributed to the fact that these provinces lie open not only to the direct efforts of the Carlisle propaganda from Switzerland, but the equally strong monarchist emanations from Bavaria.

While it has been two years of hard sledding for the republic as a whole and apparently there is a very rough road still ahead, the agrarian element has not been very badly off at any time. The farmers have made more money than they can spend and none of the many governments up to now have been able to take any very considerable part of it from them by taxes. They are enjoying luxuries for the first time in their lives because they can get their own price for their products and altogether the lessons of the new liberty are seeping into the tales and hills as well as into the factories and mines.

Every now and then the Vienna press gives prominence in a sassy way to the alleged plots of the reactionaries, to the coming and going and meetings of Carl and his satellites in Switzerland, of the former archdukes and the princes of Parma and Bourbon, the former Empress Zita's two brothers who turn up occasionally in Vienna with little attempt at concealing their presence, of the former Austrian generalissimo, Friedrich, in Bern, his cousin Eugene in Basle, of the Chamberlain Chlumetz and the Counts Berchtold, Forgatsch, Andrássy, Prince Windischgratz and all the other worthies whose vocations and privileges departed when Carl died.

Great prominence has just now been given a reported joint protest by the Czechoslovakian and Hungarian governments to the federal council against the liberty of intrigue enjoyed by the Carlisle refugees in Switzerland. The Vienna government keeps a pretty good watch on the group in Switzerland and much of the prominence given their activities is said to be inspired by the foreign office for its deterrent effect.

Even the formation of a new royalist party here headed by Count Ressegner and having for its avowed object the closer co-ordination of the various restoration movements attracted very little attention.

In fact the general belief of foreign observers here is that in Austria at least the activity of the royalists has for its purpose more the holding together of their class and the protection of their common interests rather than any real belief they can put the yellow and black banner of the house of Hapsburg back on the Hofburg. Behind this, of course, lies the hope of some turn in European affairs that may give them a chance, and here lies the danger (from without).

Should Hungary crown a king, or rather if she can find one to crown in view of Great Britain's veto of Carl, which has rather upset the movement there, or should reaction effect a successful stroke in Bavaria, what the re-permeation here would be is a matter of conjecture.

It is well known that the aim of the more ardent Hungarian monarchists is another dual kingdom and they might try a bold coup on Austria. But there is no conjecture about the cold fact that any attempt to restore the monarchy or a monarchy in this republic would mean bloodshed. Not only would the liberal elements fight but there is no concealment of the program that Czechoslovakia is to throw troops into Austria in such an event, and if she becomes engaged with Hungary the South Slavs are to come to her aid.

FRENCH PROMPTNESS EXAMPLE TO GERMANS

PARIS, March 18.—The French press has been comparing the attitude of France regarding payment of the $10,000,000,000 indemnity asked by Germany after the Franco-Prussian war in 1870 with that of the German nation now facing its bills for the world's war.

The Journal Des Debats re-publishes a letter written to that paper in February, 1872, by Hippolyte Taine, in which the famous French historian suggested that "every Frenchman surrender one-thirtieth of his 'fortune' in order that Germany might be paid soon."

Taine proposed that every Frenchman, whether rich or poor, workingman or bourgeois, could make this sacrifice to his country. He declared that a workingman by devoting one day's pay each month; a manufacturer by surrendering the one-thirtieth part of his net income; the farmer by giving up the thirtieth bushel of oats, corn or wheat as the case might be, would permit France to pay its then fabulous indemnity two years sooner than required and end the occupation.

The historian had figured that the amount realized from his scheme would reach 500,000,000 francs per year.

The Journal Des Debats commenting says: "Germany has the example of a people which on the morrow of its defeat seeks to liberate itself of its debt although that people had committed no depredations, caused no damage to the territory of its enemy."

"If machinery is to be successfully established for the peaceable settlement of disputes," said Mr. Jewell,

"these fundamental principles are an absolutely necessary preliminary."

"We have no doubt that the railroad labor board will sanction these fundamentals. We know the public will support them when it really knows the truth."

"Our reason for summarizing these fundamentals at this time is to demonstrate how easy it would have been had the railroad been sincere, to meet with those who have been selected and instructed by the rank and file of railroad employees to adjust the whole matter of national agreements."

"Well-rounded and smooth-running machinery would now be in operation and peace on railroads and good relations between management and employees would prevail where now exist grinding distrust, dissension, dissatisfaction and increasing rumblings of a fast approaching, costly and vicious conflict."

"Even now, if the representatives of the railroads were sincere in their attitude and not engaged in a misbegotten attack upon railroad employees, questions as to national agreements and national adjustment boards could be quickly settled."

Arguments upon the proposal of railroad executives to abrogate national agreements have occupied attention of the board since Jan. 2.

THEY MAKE MISTAKES

It seems to be the province of reformers to make mistakes. Perhaps it is because they live in a world of ideals that when they go up against the hard, practical realities, they are accustomed to meet with trouble for awhile. But, in the end, if they have right and justice with them, they almost always win. If they do not gain victory in the short way they expected, or just for the sort of victory they were looking for, they nevertheless, in most cases, make the world a little more like what it ought to be.

Old John Brown of Ossawatimie conceived the hare-brained idea that if he would make the journey from his Kansas home to the south, the negroes would rise en masse and greet him as a leader, and that he would be the means of helping strike the shackles from their limbs.

He died alone upon the scaffold, deserted in his last hours even by those who should have had the courage to befriend him. It did not appear as his weak old body swung to the southern breezes with the ugly black cap concealing his features, that he had accomplished much toward freeing the slaves. But John Brown's soul went marching on, and in the end there was the emancipation proclamation and the victory at Appomattox.

To come nearer home, there are today in Lowell men who would change the deplorable conditions of city government that exist. The chamber of commerce set out to secure the city a more reasonable tax rate. Their purpose was questioned. Some of them were threatened in one way or another. They made some tactical errors in their fight. They did not fully appreciate the sort of enemy they were fighting. They did not realize that the campaign was one that required careful consideration at every point.

But no one who is at all familiar with the civic conditions in Lowell is likely to question that the chamber's committee accomplished much good. For the first time a body of citizens of the highest repute showed that they had a real interest in the municipal affairs of the city and were willing to sacrifice of their time and energy in braving about an important reform. Perhaps they did not lower the tax rate as much as they expected to, but they lowered it some. And they have shown the way to better things. By setting an example of taking an interest that costs effort—real effort—and some sacrifice for Lowell and all her people.

HECKLING SIR PHILIP

It is very tiresome to hear of disturbance at the lectures of Sir Philip Gibbs, British war correspondent, who is lecturing through this country on the Irish question. Hecklers so interrupt his talks that disorder results and the police have to be called. Now this is all wrong and we thought it was stopped by an episode that occurred at one of Sir Philip's meetings in New York. Rev. Fr. Duffy, a famous war chaplain, on that occasion mounted the platform and censured the hecklers as enemies of Ireland engaged in trying to bring ridicule upon the sympathizers with the cause. He secured a hearing for the speaker and afterwards answered him, refuting several of Sir Philip's statements. That was a respectable and very effective way of dealing with a propagandist. If he advances false or misleading statements, listen carefully and then answer him in public. That will be effective. It will defeat the purpose of the lecture, whereas heckling, cat-calls and hisses will only bring ridicule upon those who indulge in such disorder.

In 1872 the historian Froude came to the United States to win the moral support of the American people for the British policy of coercion in Ireland. He was answered, lecture after lecture, by Rev. Thomas N. Burke, the great Dominican preacher who presented the Irish side of the case with remarkable power. In a debate wonderful for its eloquence and convincing logic, Father Burke defeated the English representative and sent him home discredited and crestfallen. The press of New York printed both sides of the debate in their entirety.

That was the proper way to answer a propagandist. If those who object to Sir Philip Gibbs, or any other lecturer, cannot answer him in that way, they had better hold their peace. There is here freedom of speech for all who keep within the law and those who interfere with the free exercise of that right not only make themselves ridiculous, but become offenders against one of the most sacred rights guaranteed by the constitution of the United States.

BOSTON POLICE AGAIN

The city of Boston is renewing its fight for a measure of home rule, or in other words, for some voice in the control of its police department. For some time past, the department has been under the control of Police Commissioner Curtis, an appointee of the governor, who has ruled the force with an iron hand. It was under his administration that the police strike occurred, and during which the city of Boston was raided by thieves and looters in a manner that caused amazement throughout the entire country. In that case the strikers were blamed, but Commissioner Curtis was in charge and had control of ample forces to preserve order; but he failed to use them with proper effect. The strikers' obligations of the fact that somebody was prevented from returning to the force, and it cost the city of Boston a vast amount to pay all the damages claimed for the injury to stores and factories as well as to defray the expense of organizing the new police department. The police budget for the present year for the city of Boston is $4,112,274. It would seem that a city which pays such a large sum for its police department should have some control over the men, or should at least be credited with their employment rather than have it passed to

SEEN AND HEARD

What with marbles, kites, tops and now baseball, boyhood industry certainly has picked up.

A statistician has figured it out that America's tobacco bill would spring—and summer—that the whole world of women!

Bill Hohenzollern has acquired himself of war criminals in his book. Is that the way they intended to "Try the Kaiser for Murder?"

Queen Mary of Rumania is coming to America to "see the cowboys and Indians." Roy, page Bill Hart and dig up a redskin some place!

Parcels post, which, opponents said, could not succeed, last year carried two and one-quarter billion packages, on which the government made ten million dollars profit.

President Harding thinks people want too much of the government. And most of us think (at income tax time) that the government wants too much of the people!

Never Disclosed

"I was arrested for speeding this morning," said Smith. "How fast were you going?" asked Jones. "Forty miles an hour," replied Smith. "You're a fool," exclaimed Jones. "I wish some officer would arrest me for speeding. If I could get a statement in the papers that this old car of mine was going 40 miles an hour, I might be able to sell it."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Forgot About Island

The lifeboat men reasoned with him, asking if the vessel were not insured and telling him he ought to think himself lucky that all hands were saved. "Lucky to be hanged!" replied the late skipper. "I had a favorable wind, blowing straight for New York, and would have made the fastest voyage on record if this infernal little island—which, somehow, slipped my memory—had not been in the way."

Anxious About Future

Little Willie had been told that he must always wait patiently until he was served at meals, and not to cry across the table or grab for his food. One day, while dining at a neighbor's with his mother, the little fellow was accidentally overlooked. He was very patient for a time, but he could not bear the strain no longer seeing everybody feeding but himself. So, leaning quietly across to his mother, he said in a loud whisper: "Mother, do little boys who starve to death go to heaven?"—Los Angeles Times.

Uses For Discards

New uses are being found all the time for material which formerly was discarded. Straw is being distilled to make gas or gasoline. A similar use is being made of corn cobs and sawdust. Whether straw gas can be employed successfully for driving automobiles hasn't been determined, but satisfactory tests have been made of its use for stationary engines. And there's paper. Wood pulp is the chief material. But paper has been made of many other fibers since first it was manufactured from papyrus. A Nile rush, in ancient Egypt. A new raw material for paper has been found in sugar cane stalks which have been run through the mill. Paper from sugar cane might be particularly suitable for love letters.

Two Lives

Two youths from a village set out together. To seek their fortune the wide world through. One cried: "Hurrah for the autumn weather!" The other sighed: "Winter is almost due!" One failed; he said, for he never was thrifty. Returned to the village, and laughed and loved. The other succeeded, and when he was fifty millions and fame, and the world approved.

But the failure was happy, his smile a blessing. The children romped at his feet. While from him who succeeded, tho' much possessing. The little ones shrink when they find. One purchased respect by his lordly giving. The other won love by his loving ways. And if either had doubts of his way of living. It wasn't the one with the humble ways. They never knew it, but both were leavers. Of deep life secrets, these village youths—The one of a school where facts are preachers—The other a world that worships truths.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

The department of agriculture has asked the farmers of the country to set out black walnut trees. It points out that because of the uses to which black walnut was put during the war, millions of trees were sacrificed.

A prize fighter earned more than $10,000 for his evening's work in the ring last night. It is fortunate that there is a lot of people who would rather have the $10,000 if they had to earn it in the same way. In Westfield a club has been presenting a burlesque of the city government as part of a vaudeville show. In Lowell a lot of citizens of our council used to be so much of a burlesque that no vaudeville club could improve on them. For all whom it may concern, and to settle widespread discussion, the Sun is able officially to announce that Massachusetts, Pennsylvania, Virginia and Kentucky are "commonwealths."

They are giving Plymouth Rock a waterproof covering. Next we may hear of Bunker Hill monument being provided with southerner, raincoat and galoshes.

Coffee is selling at the lowest prices in 25 years. Is it the high price in 25 years that keeps the restaurant cups of "coffee" at the old price and size?

The Boston Herald has an editorial headed, "Why Nobody Wants to Run the Railroads," apparently entirely oblivious of the fact that somebody is running them right along.

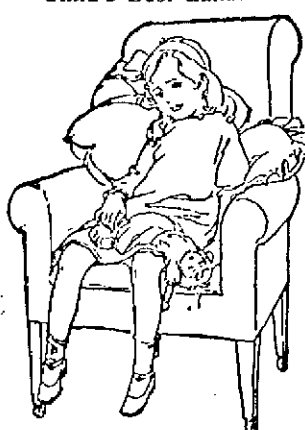

Alvan T. Fuller's "band of 40 thieves" apparently did have a rendezvous in the state house and were a little worse off than the band of robbers that had been exposed.

Maine's champion two-year-old Jersey cow has produced 11,255 pounds of milk. It is scarcely necessary to add that her ancestors once lived in Lowell.

Don't worry. If the worst hasn't happened today, it is very probable that it will not tomorrow.

100,000 CHEERED 6000 IN BOSTON PARADE

BOSTON, March 18.—Put on its mettle by the absence of United States Regiments for the first time from its own particular annual celebration, and spurred by a bracing weather, South Boston yesterday afternoon turned out close to 100,000 people and cheered 6000 men along the route of the highest feature of its patriotic program, the Evacuation day parade.

There were more than 6000 men, women and children marching in commemoration of the deliverance of the city of Boston from the grip of the British redcoats and the first important victory of the American Revolution. 145 years ago, and those 6000 marchers, more or less, gave evidence of belief that this was a red-letter day in the annals of American patriotic observances.

Crowds Came Early
The big event was run off without a single hitch of any consequence, despite the fact that the crowds began to pour into the Peninsula District more than two hours prior to the time set for the start. Whole families came to the scene from all parts of the hub, and there were hundreds of visitors from the cities and towns outlying. Many had to inquire their way. And there were soldiers in uniform, plenty of them, although there were no Regulars in evidence. There were endless platoons of the 9th Infantry, Massachusetts National Guard, every man jack of them determined to look his finest for this, the first official turn-out of the organization.

Many Men in Uniform
And there were ranks and ranks of Legion men and Veterans of Foreign Wars and Spanish War Veterans and Marines and gobs. The town of Middlesex upon participation in a patriotic celebration did not worry these chaps so that you could notice that many of them wore green carnations in their buttonholes, and many of them wore their discharge chevrons on their arms, or their Legion buttons on their coats. And many of them wore neither discharge chevrons nor buttons nor anything else, marching with alert determination and ready smiles.

All Signs Banned
An order was issued that no signs of any character, except for purposes of identification of units, would be permitted in line. In case where flags other than the flag of the United States were carried they were placed to the left of Old Glory. The instructions, which were carried down the line by runners, were obeyed to the letter. The Marching Band, Griffin, who had been ordered by Admiral Duman not to wear his reservist uniform for the occasion, led the parade in frock coat and silk topper, and was surrounded by a large staff every member of which was in full uniform.

Brig. Gen. Edward L. Logan did not ride, but marched afoot, wearing his full uniform and the insignia of his rank. His appearance was greeted by wild cheering all along the route. He marched at the head of the Michael J. Perkins Post, American Legion.

Legionaries On Their Toes
The Legionaries were plainly on their

GERMANS WANT AMERICA TO ARBITRATE

BERLIN, March 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The repeated suggestion contained in foreign despatches received here that the United States be made the arbiter of differences between Germany and the entente concerning the amount of reparations Germany can pay without disrupting her economic and industrial life, meets with favor among the German officials. They hesitate, however, to endorse the suggestion openly, as they say such action probably would be offensive to the entente.

No announcement has yet come to the German government as to how the entente purpose to collect customs, nor has there been any suggestion of further conferences on the reparations problem. Prominent Germans assert that they feel that arbitration through the disinterested judges probably is the only way that a satisfactory adjustment of the reparations question can be achieved. The question no longer is a political one, in the opinion of German leaders, but purely a financial one. They declare it now is a question of fact and figures which a disinterested arbiter could pass on with greater justice than politicians who are actuated by a spirit of revenge.

A large attendance is expected at the debate to be held in high school hall this evening between the debating societies of the Salem and Lowell high schools on the question: "Resolved, that the open shop is for the best interest of employer and employee." In addition to the debate there will be musical attractions, the program to open promptly at 7.30.

ROMANUS HODGMAN DEAD

Word has been received in Chelmsford of the recent death of Romanus Hodgman, a native of the town, which occurred recently at his home in Princeton, Ill. Mr. Hodgman was born in Chelmsford 94 years ago and went to Princeton in 1885, making his home there since, except for a short time spent in Galva, Ill. By education Mr. Hodgman was a civil engineer. Although he was also engaged in the photographic business for several years. When he first went to Princeton he acted as assistant to the county surveyor and was later elected to the position of surveyor. In 1911 he went to Florida, where he made the original survey of Daytona, the now famous winter resort.

SAYS GREENWOOD INSULTS IRELAND

LONDON, March 18.—(By the Associated Press)—A little scene occurred at the opening of the house of commons yesterday afternoon when Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, made his appearance with a sprig of shamrock in the buttonhole of his coat. Jeremiah McVeagh, Nationalist member for the southern division of County Down, when he saw the shamrock said to the chief secretary: "Take that shamrock out of your coat. Don't be insulting to Ireland."

"I have hoped," replied Sir Hamar, "that the influence of the great Christian saint might save Ireland."

The chief secretary then went on to answer questions regarding Ireland.

upwards of a hundred of which were addressed to him and Premier Lloyd George. These questions brought out nothing new.

Mr. Lloyd George, however, explained that the proposed new parliaments in Ireland had the powers of a constituent assembly within limits, but that no constituent assembly that anyone might set up in Ireland would be given the power of forming any constitution without reference to the United Kingdom.

BOSTON, March 18.—William T. Tilden 2nd of Philadelphia, world's champion tennis player, and Mrs. Franklin D. Mallory, New York, national women's singles titleholder, resumed their partnership yesterday in the newly instituted indoor national, mixed doubles tournament at the Longwood Cricket club courts at Chestnut Hill. They defeated Mrs. H. B. Cole 2nd, of North Andover and Irving C. Wright, Boston, 6-3, 5-7, 6-3.

This was the first playing together of Mrs. Mallory and Tilden, preparatory to sailing for England in May to engage in the world's championship outdoor tennis tournament at Wimbledon, which begins in June. Incidentally it was Tilden's first appearance in open competition since his return from New Zealand, where he played in the Davis cup matches last year.

Mrs. Mallory defeated Miss Florence A. Ballin of New York 6-2, 6-0. Miss Zinderstein disposed of Miss Martha Bayard of Short Hills, N. J., 6-2, 6-3.

CLOSE BASKETBALL SEASON TONIGHT

Lowell Textile school will close its basketball season tonight on the Textile school gymnasium floor when the Moody street five will line up against the University of Vermont. One of the season's hardest fought games is expected inasmuch as Vermont has defeated several strong college outfits this season and has a quarter that knows the game from a to z.

Textile, on the other hand, is looking forward to a victory and will put her strongest team on the floor. Coach MacIntyre of the high school team will act as referee.

This is the first season that the Textile school has had a basketball representation for nearly a dozen years, and of 12 games played the outfit has won eight and lost but four. The defeats have in most instances been by narrow margins. The season's record is as follows:

Pittsburg Normal 22, Textile 33.
Lowell Y.M.C.A. 24, Textile 73.
Tufts 21 23, Textile 20.

from Mr. Laughridge and handed it to the clerk to read.

Clara Hamon gasped audibly in the tensely silent court room and drooped forward in her seat, only to be seized from behind by her younger brother "Jimmie," squeezed violently and kissed. Tears came to her eyes and the other members of her family cried with her as she crossed to the standing jurors and haltingly thanked them for their verdict.

"I am the happiest woman in the world," she said. She used a secret passage from the court room to escape the crowds which threatened to overwhelm her with congratulations.

Last night her plans for the future were incomplete, she and members of her counsel of six attorneys said. She is considering a number of business propositions, according to Walter Scott, of Fort Worth, Tex., one of her counsel, but what she shall do in the immediate future is undetermined.

Her father, J. L. Smith, is seriously ill at El Paso, Tex., and it was said she might return there to be with him in the last days of what is termed an illness which may be fatal.

None of the members of the family of Jake L. Hamon, was in the courtroom when the jury returned its verdict. Mrs. Hamon, the widow and her 19-year-old son, Jake L., Jr., left when the case was placed in the jury's hands. Mrs. Hamon at that time was in tears.

Mrs. Hamon attended all sessions of the trial except two, clad in mourning, and sitting directly opposite Clara Hamon, 39 inches away.

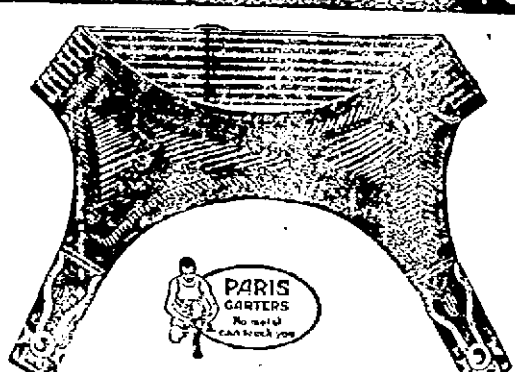

Not once during the entire trial which began a week ago yesterday, did the two women appear to become conscious of each other except on the days they testified when each regarded the other closely.

Last night at the home here of Mrs. Jake L. Hamon, it was said that she had not been told of the verdict and that she would not be informed until today because of her physical and mental condition.

Jake L. Hamon, Jr., said that if his mother was given brief news of the acquittal after such brief consideration by the jury, it "would lead to throw her into a collapse, on the verge of which she is right now."

Helen Grygiene, 15, fled when four bandits entered K. Grygiene's Chicago saloon in search of $20,000. She kept there to cash pay checks. But before she could, the bandits, who were armed, threatened the bandits, the girl copied their auto license number. That's why the four landed in jail.

UNCONSTITUTIONAL

Ruling on Anti-Rent Profiteering Ordinance

LOS ANGELES, March 18.—A municipal anti-rent profiteering ordinance, designed to limit sums landlords might charge to certain percentages of their investments, has been declared unconstitutional by the county court.

LIQUOR CASE DISMISSED

MIAMI, March 18.—The case against Harry St. Francis Black of New York, in whose private car local prohibition authorities seized 60 cases of intoxicating liquors, was dismissed today by United States Commissioner Graham when the capitalist was brought before him for arraignment. Black had been arrested by both the state and federal authorities and charged with violating the prohibition laws.

STOCKHOLM, March 18.—Reports that the Russian naval fortress of Kronstadt, the center of the revolution against the soviet government, has been taken by the Bolsheviks appear to be confirmed in despatches from Finland. Leon Trotsky, Russian Bolshevik minister of war, directed the assault on the fortress, it is said, and hurled upwards of 60,000 men at its defenses.

Advices would seem to indicate that communists within the fortress, and town of Kronstadt, resisted the Bolshevik forces when the latter had broken into the outer forts of the place. The garrison, numbering approximately 15,000, is declared to have been exhausted by the constant bombardment and was poorly equipped in some important points along the defense lines. Many of the defenders, including the commander, are reported to have escaped into Finland across the ice.

Leaders Released

LONDON, March 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The Russian soviet government, in confirming by wireless the capture of Kronstadt, by Bolshevik troops, says M. Kuzmin, soviet commissar of the Baltic fleet and M. Vasileff, chairman of the Kronstadt soviet, who were arrested at the beginning of the rising, were released by the Bolsheviks.

AMBASSADORS HAND NOTE TO GERMANS

PARIS, March 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The Council of Ambassadors today handed a note to the German troops on the Upper Silesian frontier.

The communication, which is couched in terms similar to the warning sent to Berlin yesterday by the French government, recalls that the maintenance of order in Upper Silesia is exclusively under the control of the inter-allied council. Germany, it says, will be liable from the entry of armed German forces into the plebiscite area. A similar note was sent by the council to the Polish plebiscite delegation.

PAWTUCKETVILLE SOCIAL CLUB President Joseph Payette occupied the chair at the regular meeting of the Pawtucketville Social club which was held last evening. New members were initiated and applications for membership were received. Routine business was transacted and the opening of the new French Catholic church in the district was discussed informally.

SHIP CAPTAIN HELD ON LARCENY CHARGE

BOSTON, March 18.—Charles M. Baker, captain of the shipping board steamer Luella, was arrested here today by federal authorities on a warrant issued at Philadelphia charging him with larceny of $3325 of the ship's funds. The case was continued until next week, but outside Capt. Baker said the trouble was due to the fact that a man could not be at the same time a skipper, bookkeeper and an expert in foreign exchange. His accounts were short he admitted, saying he had reported the fact himself. But it was all due to foreign exchange fluctuations, he contended. On a voyage to South American ports, Spain and Wales under charter to the International Freightage Co., he said he met a constantly changing condition of the exchange market. The crew came to him for pay at every port, and at every port exchange rates varied. The result, Capt. Baker said, was that many were overpaid because of his inability to keep track of the exchange fluctuations from day to day.

The skipper said he had not profited by the errors to the extent of a single cent, that he had already paid back $500 out of his savings and that he would work the remainder off if necessary as a deckhand or captain to clear his name.

Our government is sending to Australia certain insects that prey upon the widely feared corn which has become a first-class nuisance in that country.

CONSIDERS EMBARGO ON FARM COMMODITIES

WASHINGTON, March 18.—President Harding has under advisement today an appeal from western senators and representatives that he place an immediate embargo on the importation of a number of farm commodities, including wool, hides, meat and butter, represented as most keenly affected by foreign competition. Other products on the proposed embargo list are lemons, cottonseed oil and long staple cotton.

Adhering to its program for rushing through at the special session of congress an anti-dumping bill with an added American valuation measure, possibly to be combined in one bill, the house ways and means committee referred to treasury department officials today a resolution requesting them to frame a rough draft for its consideration.

At the treasury department although Secretary Mellon publicly has expressed no views on the question of priority for tariff or revenue revision, officials already have begun the formulation of a tax revision policy. A detailed survey of revenue sources and the extent to which each might be drawn upon for federal income is under way in order to have all necessary data for early submission to congressional committees should they call for it.

1000 EMIGRANTS TO SAIL MARCH 23

LONDON, March 18.—One thousand persons emigrating from Europe to the United States will sail on board the steamer Adriatic on March 23. It is announced here. These emigrants have been given a preliminary medical inspection. The flood gates of European emigration will remain open until March 23. It is said at the American consulate here, officials having received instructions to defer until that time enforcement of the regulation requiring a period of quarantine prior to the departure of emigrants.

EXPLAINS MILLERAND LETTER TO OREGON

PARIS, March 18.—(By the Associated Press)—The French foreign office announced today that the letter written recently by President Millerand to President Obregon of Mexico, out of which grew the report that steps were being taken by the French government to recognize Mexico, was simply an acknowledgment of receipt of a letter from Senor Obregon announcing his coming into power.

ROBBED OF JEWELRY WORTH $44,800

PITTSBURGH, March 18.—A German, a travelling representative for a New York jewelry firm, was robbed of jewelry valued at $44,800 last night in a Pittsburgh hotel. The thieves entered his room and rifled his display case during his absence.

WIRE DESPATCHES

NEW YORK, March 18.—Bradstreet's Weekly compilation of bank clearing shows $7,402,438,000, a decrease of 29 per cent. from last year. Outside of New York there was a decrease of 21 per cent.

NEW YORK, March 18.—Directors of the Chicago, Burlington, and Quincy railroad today announced the declaration of a stock dividend of 54 per cent, plus 1.355 payable to stockholders on record March 31. This amounts to about $60,000,000 or half of the company's outstanding stock issue.

BERLIN, March 18. (By the Associated Press.)—The reichstag has adopted a resolution providing for class room study of the Versailles peace treaty in the advanced classes of German schools. The resolution was introduced by the German people's party.

WESTFIELD, March 18.—Announcement was made today by the United States Whip Co. that the business of the New England Whip Co. had been bought and would be consolidated with that of the United States Co. on April 30. The New England Co. was formed 30 years ago.

CHICAGO, March 18.—Railroad labor unions today presented what they termed their "bill of rights" to the Railroad Labor Board and then began an attempt to prove insincerity of roads in their dealings with the union by cross-examining railroad officials who had been summoned by the board to a hearing on the union charges.

RUTHERFORD, N. J., March 18.—The "Big Six" Erie express, from Jersey City to Chicago, was delayed an hour here today when several yards of cloth became wound around the locomotive, causing hot boxes.

MONTREAL, March 18.—When Angelo B. Salvati, at one time a partner of Charles Ponzi, appeared in court here today to answer to a charge of stealing approximately $50,000 from the bank of his brother, Joseph, he discovered that all the evidence in the case had disappeared. It had been in the care of the clerk of the court.

CONTINUE TO VOTE
LICENSE - QUESTION

BOSTON, March 16.—Voters of cities and towns in this state will continue to exercise the local option of declaring their cities a "dry" town, and the vote was estimated not more than 215 per cent of alcohol sold in their communities. The federal prohibitory law to the contrary notwithstanding, the full force of the supreme court today held that cities and towns must comply with the provision of the state statute for an annual vote on the question.

The full bench acted on the petition of Charles H. Jones of Milton for writ of mandamus to compel the selectmen of that town to refrain from inserting the question in the warrant for the annual town meeting. The petition was dismissed.

Asserting that the provision for an annual vote on the question is a statutory, the court's decision added that if it be assumed that an affirmative answer in a non-mandatory vote is utterly vain and absolutely ineffectual, still the mere vote will violate no provision of the 18th amendment of the Volstead act. The vote itself does not authorize any sales of the so-called non-intoxicating beverages.
